Stricken Dulles Resigns Post; Ike Delays Naming Successor

ENDS CAREER — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, whose resignation due to illness was announced today by President Eisenhower, managed a smile despite his ailment as he re-entered Walter Reed Hospital in Washington Sunday. The cancer-stricken diplomat cut short a Florida stay when he suffered a new outbreak of discomfort, since diagnosed as a probable spread of cancer to the neck area. (AP Wirephoto)

Saddened President Announces Stepdown

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower, his voice choked with emotion, today sadly announced the resignation of cancer-stricken Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

At a dramatic news conference at his vacation headquarters, Eisenhower said Dulles now is "absolutely incapacitated" to carry on the administrative burden of his office, and make policy as well.

The President said he has made no final decision on a successor to Dulles. He gave newsmen the impression he might pick someone other than Undersecretary Christian A. Herter, who has been serving as acting secretary.

But the President by no means ruled out Herter.

In washington, one top Republican official said it would be wrong to view Eisenhower's delay in naming a successor as a sign that Herter would not get the post.

WANTS TO WAIT

Eisenhower's noncommittal answer about Herter today, this official said, was not meant to alfer this but to show the President wanted to wait a few days before announcing the choice of Herter.

Dulles, Eisenhower said, will continue to serve him as a foreign policy consultant.

There was a trace of tears in Eisenhower's eyes as he announced the 71-year-old Dulles' decision to step down.

Although at the news conference Eisenhower called Dulles "absolutely incapacitated" for the administrative burden and "doing the thinking for it," an aide said later that the President had not intended to use the word "absolutely."

ASKS DELETION

Press secretary James C. Haggerty asked newsmen to delete the word, and the official White House transcript eliminated it.

Asked whether he had someone other than Herter in mind to succeed Dulles, Eisenhower said there are "all kinds of considerations" to take into account. He added there are "a number of people with particular talents" who could fill the top foreign policy post.

Eisenhower's announcement came less than 24 hours after Dulles' doctors concluded that his cancer probably has spread to the neck area. Earlier it apparently had been confined to the abdominal area.

EMOTION EVIDENT

The President's emotion regarding the turn for the worse for Dulles' condition became

Herter Considered Most Likely To Become Secretary

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Acting Secretary of State Christian A. Herter was generally regarded today as the man most likely to succeed John Foster Dulles. But President Eisenhower's cautious refusal to be pinned down on a successor raised speculation he may be considering the stricken secretary's brother.

Director Allen W. Dulles of the Central Intelligence Agency suddenly emerged as a "dark horse" possibility in speculation in administration quarters.

Speculation concerning Allen Dulles was bolstered by the activities of the intelligence agency chief during the past week.

He conferred at length with Eisenhower at Augusta, Ga., last week and then delivered in New Orleans a wide-ranging and hard-hitting cold war speech of the type which the secretary of state usually makes.

Private information from Augusta tended to support the speculation that Allen Dulles was chief among those the President had in mind when he said this morning "There are a number of people . . . in government, or at least a few, who have particular talent in this field, and there are all kinds of considerations to be studied."

Herter was doing nothing to either support or lessen the general assumption in Washington that he would get the post. He declined to see photographers and reporters.

The 64-year-old former Massachusetts governor has been acting secretary since mid-January. He was powerful congressional support for the secretary's job.

Besides Allen Dulles, another possibility being mentioned was C. Douglas Dillon, undersecretary of state for economic affairs.

Hub Will Appoint Chief From Force

San Anselmo will appoint its next police chief from an eligibility list established by an examination within its police department—and City Manager Arthur W. Brewer has the power to make the appointment.

Decision to have the state Cooperative Personnel Service conduct a promotional examination, open to Asst. Police Chief Sam N. Serio and the department's three sergeants, was reached unanimously last night. It came after Councilman Jordan L. Martinelli announced he had learned Frank Kelly, who steps out as San Rafael's police chief next Monday, is interested in the Hub City job.

FROM HUB FORCE

Although Mayor Smith expressed high regard for Chief Kelly, all agreed the appointment should be from within the San Anselmo force.

Mayor Smith voted "yes" on the motion for the examination although he said he could see little reason for it. He pointed out that the council could appoint from the three high men if all pass; thus only one of the four men eligible to take the exam would likely be eliminated. (The four are Serio and Sgts. Ray Buchignani, Ray Velati and Chester Orr.)

Then it came out that not the council, but the city manager, actually has the right to appoint.

MANAGER ORDINANCE

City Atty. John G. Buresh said he would like to call the council's attention to a section of the city manager ordinance it might like to change.

The section gives the city manager the right to hire, fire, demote and promote any employee.

Brewer defended the section, declaring most council-manager ordinances make the manager the appointing officer. That removes appointments from politics and puts them "strictly on merit," he said.

Mayor Smith and Councilman Carmel H. Booth attacked the provision, Mrs. Booth declaring, "This type of ordinance actually emasculates the city council."

TAKING POLICY OUT

"I feel this is taking policy out of the council's hands," said Smith.

"There are about 1,500 cities in the country who think otherwise," shot back Brewer.

A motion by Mrs. Booth to eliminate the section from the

Bolinas To Keep Fire Truck For Summer

Marin County, moving toward centralization of its scattered fire stations, will allow fire trucks to remain through the summer dry season at Bolinas and Inverness.

The county board of supervisors voted unanimously last night to leave the Bolinas fire warden and truck in Bolinas and to return another warden and truck to Inverness from Point Reyes Station, where it had been transferred.

But, the board told a delegation of Bolinas, Inverness and Stinson Beach residents at a special hearing in the courthouse, the trucks will remain only through this year's fire season. Next year the Bolinas truck probably will be stationed at Throckmorton Ridge, and

Board To Stick By Wright Contract

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today voted 4-1 to continue the contract with the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation for construction of the county civic center.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman, long a foe of the Wright plans, voted against the move.

Wright died last Thursday at 89 after surgery. The question of the status of the county's contract with the foundation arose because of the famed architect's death.

The motion, presented by Mrs. Vera Schultz of Mill Valley, said the board would continue the contract so that plans could go forward for calling of bids on the first and second phases of the center.

The county counsel also was instructed in the motion to write the foundation and request its assurances that it has the ability to continue with the project.

Fusselman was unsuccessful in getting a second to motion that the board ask the foundation for copies of the plans as they stood at Wright's death. Although the other supervisors did not agree, Fusselman expressed considerable doubt that Wright personally designed the plans. He also questioned the legality of the contract with the foundation in the light of the architect's death.

The board decided to call in Aaron Green, Wright's West Coast representative, for a conference on the plans. County Counsel Leland H. Jordan indicated he would attempt to find out whether the foundation is still in existence legally.

Satellite Ejects Space Capsule

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE (UPI)—American scientists announced jubilantly today they apparently had achieved a new space triumph with the automatic ejection of the space capsule from the Discoverer II satellite.

The Advanced Research Projects Agency of the Department of Defense said that analysis of radio beacon and telemetry (radio) signals from Discoverer II received since 7 p.m. yesterday "indicates the capsule did eject from the satellite as predicted."

The agency said the several reports of visual sighting and radio contact from the capsule were being carefully checked to determine the probable landing area in the polar region.

Discoverer II's capsule—capable of carrying living organisms in space—failed to eject on radio command from the ground yesterday because of a malfunction in a timing device.

But the automatic mechanism within the 1,600-pound polar-orbiting vehicle was pre-set to unload the capsule on its 17th pass around the earth, and today's brief report strongly supported hopes of returning the multi-million-dollar package from the globe-girdling satellite.

"If it did work (as the announcement indicated), the capsule probably came down in or near the Arctic," an Air Force spokesman said earlier.

The expected but disappointing fact that the scientists could not on the first attempt recover the 160-pound capsule in the air or on the ocean's surface meant only that it probably was lost to the "polar bears and icebergs" of the Arctic.

The satellite itself is expected to continue circling the globe for about 30 days.

Sonic Booms May Shake Area Again

Sonic booms may rock the Bay rea again tomorrow.

An air defense training exercise will be staged over the entire West Coast during daylight hours, and "will involve some supersonic flights if necessary for successful completion of the air defense mission, although every effort will be made to prevent sonic booms over populated areas," it was announced today by headquarters, Western Air Defense Force at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Aircraft from the Strategic Air Command, Air Defense Command, Air National Guard units from Washington, Oregon, Idaho and California, Navy fighter-interceptors and Nike missile batteries from the Mexican border to mid-Canada will be involved in the exercise, it was announced.

WADF headquarters would not say specifically whether aircraft from Hamilton will participate, but it was considered probable because of the massive nature of the exercise.

The exercise will be run as realistically as possible, the announcement said. At some Air Force bases, drills in "defense capability under fallout," such as the drill held last week at Hamilton, will be held in tomorrow's exercise. Base defense plans will be placed in operation at other bases.

The exercise "is another in a continuous series of training programs designed to keep defense of the United States and North America at the highest possible level," the announcement said.

Results will be secret.

Three More Candidates File For School Trustee Posts

Three more school trustee candidates filed today for the May 19 elections. Deadline for filing is 5 p.m. Friday.

County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis announced the three new filings were:

Mrs. Etta Morelli, incumbent trustee of the Union School District, who lives at 5935 Red Hill road, Petaluma. She is the only one to file for the single vacancy on the Union school board.

Philip S. Bundschu, 42, a Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. engineer, as a candidate for San Anselmo School District trustee. Bundschu lives at 421 the Alameda. A former San Anselmo trustee, he was defeated in last year's election. Bundschu is the first candidate to file for two vacancies on the San Anselmo school board.

Dr. John S. Wellington, 37-year-old professor of pathology at the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco, for the Sausalito School District board of trustees. His home is at 48 Sunshine avenue. He is the second candidate to file for two vacancies on the Sausalito board.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The forecast today was for continued fair weather in California tomorrow, and probably Friday, except for fog on the central and southern coast.

The five-day forecast through next Monday said there was a possibility of a little rain near the weekend in the extreme north but none elsewhere in Northern and Central California.

Temperatures will range near normal, but above normal inland late in the week.

'WANTED HUMAN TARGET'

Typist, 18, Tells Of 'Urge' Slaying

REDWOOD CITY (AP) — A blonde typist was jailed in a murder investigation today, accused of pumping 18 bullets into the body of a gardener to satisfy an urge for a human target.

Sheriff Earl B. Whitmore quoted Rosemarie Diane Bjorkland, 18, as saying:

"I had a terrible urge to kill someone ever since I started target shooting as a hobby. I wanted a human target."

August Norry, 28, a golf course gardener, was found dead in the hills south of San Francisco on Feb. 1.

It was his custom to go there to dump grass cuttings and garden debris.

His body had been riddled by 18 bullets.

Sheriff Whitmore said Miss Bjorkland related she had met Norry twice before, as she was shooting at targets, while he emptied his gardening bags.

Whitmore again quoted the girl: "I used to go up there and point my pistol at a target pretending it was a human being. Mr. Norry on that day was my target.

"Suddenly I had the overpowering urge to shoot him. I kept shooting, emptying my gun and reloading. That was the only reason. There was no other."

The home-loaded bullets found in Norry's body were subjected to extensive chemical analysis. Manufacturers of lead were checked. One was found that made a bullet material identical with that in the death slugs.

Retail shops that sold this type were checked and customers were questioned. A man was found at nearby Daly City who made his own bullets. The bullet forms matched in microscopic detail the markings on the Norry bullets.

Questioned, the Daly City man said he had sold a box of bullets to Miss Bjorkland.

Police went to her home, awakened her and took her to the Redwood City County Jail for questioning.

Hired Killer Arrives On Death Row

Augustine Baldonado, sentenced to die for the hired killing of Mrs. Olga Duncan, 30-year-old daughter-in-law of Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, arrived at San Quentin Prison last night.

The 25-year-old Mexican, who testified he and Luis Moya, 22, were paid $305 by Mrs. Duncan to kill her son's pregnant wife, was convicted of first degree murder in Ventura County Superior Court. Moya is to go on trial Monday.

Mrs. Duncan was sentenced to die in the San Qlentin gas chamber. She is at the California Institute for Women at Corona while her case is on appeal to the state Supreme Court.

Baldonado was brought to San Quentin at 8:50 p.m. yesterday by deputies of the Ventura County Sheriff. He appeared "very cooperative, very calm," said Associate Warden Walter D. Achuff.

Baldonado, the 25th prisoner on Death Row, is married and the father of a 4-year-old boy and 2-month-old twins.

San Rafael Planners Nix New Building

A proposed new building at the Montecito Center between United Markets and the Crocker-Anglo National Bank was turned down by the San Rafael Planning Commission last night.

The proposed structure would deviate from the original master plan presented by Montecito Properties, Inc., and would block the proposed Second street extension which is under consideration by the city. The city's long-range proposal is to make Second street one-way through the Hess Lumber Co. property, next to Ames Ford, behind United Markets, and coming out onto San Pedro road behind the Standard Service Station on Montecito land.

Montecito's master plan showed the new building set back far enough to the rear of Standard station to permit the Second street extension to pass through. But last night's proposal brought the structure to within 5 feet of the service station, thus blocking the Second street outlet.

The planners denied the proposed building on grounds it is a major departure from the original master plan.

Fairfax Hires Architect To Plan Center

Fairfax Park, now graced with redwood trees and a set of antiquated buildings, is going to be the site of a well-planned civic center and recreation area if the Fairfax City Council has its way.

The council voted Monday night to hire Eugene F. Crawford, San Rafael architect, to make a $1,500 survey of existing structures, planned location of future city buildings and priority list.

The city is to furnish Crawford with a map showing location of exisiting buildings. "We've got to spot each one of the trees," added Councilman Rolfe M. Ockenden, prime defender against "encroachment" on the park's natural beauties.

Fire Chief Charles Thornton, eager to get going on plans for a new firehouse, was told by the council that an "overall plan" must come first.

Singer Off To Get Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Negro singer Herb Jeffries left for Mexico today to get a quickie divorce so he can marry stripper Tempest Storm.

The 27-year-old burlesque queen said last night she and Jeffries, 37, hadn't set the marriage date yet. She said he would fly to Juarez, Mexico, divorce his wife, Elizabeth, and return here tonight.

Railroad's Subdivision Receives Approval

A series of subdivisions, including the long-discussed Northwestern Pacific Railroad's subdivision between the railroad tracks and Irwin street, won San Rafael Planning Commission approval last night.

The railroad subdivision lies on both sides of the newly built Du Bois street extension from Woodland to Irwin. Approval of the final map means the Du Bois street extension can be opened for public use if the city council approves.

Loch Lomond Unit 5, a subdivision of 13 new homes, also got the go-ahead. The new unit extends Locksley lane to Lochinvar road.

Other actions taken by the planning commissioners include:

1. Charles Heimen won approval of an eight-unit apartment on Valencia street near Jewell court on condition he puts in curbs, gutters and sidewalks and does not permit access from the apartment area to Jewell court.
2. Paul Sade, developer of Sunny View Terrace garden apartments north of the Miracle Mile, may build Bayo Vista way 32 feet wide instead of 34 feet, on condition he put in curbs on both sides, gutter on one side and a four-foot sidewalk on one side. Sade wanted the sidewalk requirement waived.
3. Marie Rivers of 1120 Lincoln avenue may not put up a "sandwich type" sign on the front lawn.
4. Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn. at Fifth avenue and B street may install a parking lot at 1141 Mission street about a block away, subject to approval of a suitable layout plan on the parking lot.
5. A 16-square foot sign was approved at the Odd Fellows Building at 1522 Fifth aveuue. The nonlighted sign would be placed in a planter box. The present sign on the building itself will come down.
6. Marshall Smith won approval of a tentative map for six lots on the north side of Irwin street adjacent to Bret Harte Meadows. The developer must improve Irwin street fronting the new subdivision wiht one-half the paving and curb, gutter and sidewalk.
7. Discussion of the parking problem in front of Copy Cat bar at 637 Francisco boulevard was postponed for two weeks to give commissioners a chance to investigate.

Jetliner Sets New N.Y.-L.A. Record

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Fighting 50 m.p.h. headwinds, a jet airliner raced from New York City to Los Angeles in 4 hours 46 minutes yesterday, breaking the commercial air record for westbound flights.

The plane, carrying a capacity load of 106 passengers and eight crew members, bettered the old record by an hour and 32 minutes. The American Airlines Boeing 707 jet flagship, piloted by Capt. Charles A. MacAtee, averaged 570 m.p.h. for the 2,469-mile transcontinental flight.

BODY MISSING — Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos (top) and Coroner Frank J. Keaton cautiously inspect the Fernwood Cemetery crypt which contained the body of M. T. Barreios, 56, since 1904. The remains are missing, and no trace has been discovered so far. (Independent-Journal photo)

Bodies To Be Moved From Vault

At least one body, and perhaps more, will be moved from a desecrated Fernwood Cemetery vault in Tamalpais Valley to a safer resting place at Mt. Olivet Cemetery north of San Rafael, officials at the county coroner's office reported today.

Coroner Frank J. Keaton was at Fernwood this morning to make arrangements for transfer of the first body. Only bones and fragments of clothing remain in the vaults at Fernwood, which is over run with grass.

Coroner Keaton and Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos today continued the search for the culprits who stole the remains of M. P. Barreios, who died in 1904 at age 56. Sheriff's investigators said they have no idea of who is responsible. Speculation runs from young vandals to pre-medical students as the possible culprits. No lead had been turned in as of noon today.

Mrs. Violet Williams of 63 Crescent avenue, Sausalito, noticed the damaged vaults and informed authorities.

The vault containing the remains of Alice Mary Flores, 15, who died in 1912, was also damaged, but the contents were left undisturbed.

Arks Debated On TV, In Council Session

Sausalito's battle of the arks and barges moved to the television screen last night and the competitive attraction caused early adjournment of the city council meeting.

As the council session started, Mayor Howard Sievers announced that City Atty. John B. Ehlen would appear on a television panel program at 9:30 p.m. to discuss the waterfront controversy and that he (the mayor) expected to adjourn the session in ample time for the council to watch the program—elsewhere.

KQED PROGRAM

The KQED program, "Bay Area Profile," had Ehlen presenting the city's efforts to correct purported law violations. Ark residents were represented by Lawrence Steese and Ben Chamberlain, who spoke for the newly formed Sausalito Preservation Assn.

The TV program was preceded by a similar discussion at the council meeting, as a letter from the new organization was read asking for clarification of the city's objectives and objecting to Ehlen's public statements in the controversy.

David X. Lee, president of the organization, speaking from the audience, suggested the city should not take precipitate action in evicting offending ark dwellers but should "set up an advisory committee to work with our committee."

'NOT MILITANT'

"We are not a militant group," Lee declared. "We are in contact with the Regional Water Pollution Control Board and the county health officer."

Lee criticized Ehlen, saying "We are disturbed by his raucous comments."

"There are at least 227 people involved in this action. This would be a sizable portion of the city to be thrown out in 30 days, As Ehlen has threatened," he declared.

Prior to Lee's charges, Mayor Sievers commented, "This council is not trying to rid the waterfront of arks and barges but intends to enforce the rules and regulations as they apply to pollution and health."

Councilman John E. Koenig Jr. contended, "If houses ashore must put in sewers, houseboats should do the same and that also goes for structural deficiencies." He took the ark dwellers to task with the observation that "It appears to me that they stall or do anything to avoid compliance."

ARGUMENTS DON'T APPLY

Noting a frequent contention from the waterfront, Koenig said, "Arguments on the aesthetic or cultural value of houseboats have nothing to do with the matter so long as they comply with laws on pollution, health and safety."

Lee argued that arks were not the only offenders. "Are you aware," he asked, "that there are some 700 boats moored in the harbor and that there are only two public toilets?"

Koenig said the problem was being worked on.

The matter was concluded as councilman George E. Keeney observed, "If the residents of the arks and barges will just join together and work with some contractors, they will probably make some progress on getting connected to sewers."

(In the subsequent TV program, Ehlen said pending eviction suits should be acted on shortly and that additional eviction notices would be filed soon.

The council also:

1. Approved unanimously a new mutual aid fire protection agreement with other cities.
2. Instructed City Attorney Ehlen to draw up an ordinance to control arks, barges and dilapidated buildings patterned after one in force in Alameda.
3. Approved installation of underground conduits for new electroliers on portions of Bridgeway about to be widened.
4. Put over to May 5 proposals for private operation of parking facilities on city-owned property on Bridgeway.
5. Was told by developer Rudy Lang Jr. that he hopes to annex to Sausalito the property on Waldo Point on which he plans a 75-unit apartment development.
6. Took no action on a request for support of the proposed Golden Gate Authority.

Councilman Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. was absent.

Jr. Museum's Deer Injured Put To Death

A 3-year-old deer named Sesame, a familiar friend to thousands of children who have visited the Junior Museum of Marin in San Rafael, was killed yesterday with a hypodermic injection by S. Thompson Walker, museum director, after the animal panicked and became wedged in its cage between two tree trunks—apparently the victim of an attacking dog.

Walker, who had cared for the doe since it was a fawn, said the lock on the door of the cage had been broken and "the only thing that would have caused Sesame to panic was a dog."

He termed the attack "senseless."

The mercy killing was performed on the advice of the Marin County Humane Society, after the deer was found to be suffering from internal injuries.

"It hurt me a great deal to have to give the shot," said Walker. "It was a very friendly deer. Children used to feed it carrots."

Real Estate Views And Values

Mrs. Huffer, a divorced woman, left Marin County in a hurry. She owned a large older home. Because her finances were limited she needed immediate action on the property. So when she got a chance to rent it, she took it, and moved.

After a few months she wrote us to list it, since her renters had moved out.

An inspection showed the house was in rough shape. It needed new linoleum on the kitchen and bathroom floors, complete redecoration and many minor repairs. we advised her to reduce her price slightly, rather than spend the money (which she didn't have) to put it in shape.

Then we ran an ad appealing to speculative buyers. Before long, a man called. "This is just what I'm looking for," he said. "Fixing up houses is my hobby." He bought it — paying cash for her equity. The whole deal took only a couple of weeks

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks rose sharply today and moved to within striking distance of the all-time highs set earlier this year.

The rails once again starred as this average crept to within a point or so of the year's highs set in January.

The industrials scored individual gains that ran to three or four points in a few of the pivotals. The gains carried the industrial average to within two points or so of its all-time high, set March 13.

Goodyear was strong in a firm tire group. Motors were generally firm. Gulf and Amerada featured the oils. DuPont, Stauffer and Thiokol were strong in the chemicals with gains running to four points or more in each at their highs.

Non-ferrous metals had some good gainers. The steels made a fairly good showing, with Youngstown up better than two at its high and Bethlehem and Republic more than one at their top.

Zenith and Ampex were strong in the electronics.

Road Bonds Lose In Menlo Park

MENLO PARK (UPI)—Voters in Menlo Park have rejected a controversial $600,000 bond issue measure for a highway underpass linking Willow road with El Camino Real.

However, they overwhelmingly approved a $140,000 bond issue for a new police headquarters building. A third proposal calling for a $155,000 youth community center lost by 95 votes.

County To Continue Indigent Medical Plan, Pending Report

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today decided to stand pat on its rule for payment of indigent emergency cases treated at Marin or Ross General Hospitals, pending a report from the Marin Medical Society and others on how to handle the matter.

The decision came at the end of a report on the first 90 days of the county contract with San Rafael General Hospital for handling indigent cases.

Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy Jr., county medical director, said "everything is running smoothly" in the contract with San Rafael Hospital.

A report from the auditor's office showed that during the half month that the contract was in operation in January, the county advanced $3,750 and the bills came to $5,388.37. During February, the county advanced the full amount of its contract price of $7,500, and the bills amounted to $10,491.72. During March the county advanced the same amount, and the estimation for expenses is $15,000.

The report indicated, however, there is no cause for alarm, because the patient load is higher during winter months, especially March, and decreases during the summer. The report said it was felt that on the basis of the whole contract $120,000 would be sufficient for the entire year.

However, the board was told that figures for three months were not enough of an experience on which to base a decision.

A letter from John Prescott, general manager of San Rafael General Hospital, pointed out that all but three types of cases were to be treated at San Rafael General, and that the exceptions would be treated at Marin General Hospital, where there are better facilities.

These are infants under 2, certain head injury cases, and certain chest injury cases.

In emergency cases handled originally by hospitals other than San Rafael (i.e. Marin General) the bills will be sent to San Rafael General, and thence to the county. In the three specific exceptions, the bills will be sent directly to the county.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman wanted to know who was going to pay the difference in the bills originating at Marin General Hospital and sent to the county via San Rafael General. He referred specifically to the fact that the county has contracted to pay San Rafael at a set rate, and if the Marin rate is higher someone would have to pick up the tab.

Prescott said San Rafael General would pay difference in any overflow cases.

Fusselman then wanted to know about patients who run out of funds and become indigent.

Dufficy said that 99 per cent of the cases are being handled smoothly, and it is only the areas of a few emergency cases where the payment responsibility is snarled.

At the suggestion of Supervisor Vera Schultz, the board decided to allow the medical society's liaison officer, Dr. Calvin Plumhof, and various county officials work out this problem and make a recommendation to the board. She also suggested that any cases now hanging fire should be considered retroactively.

Dr. Frank Plumhof indicated the recommendations might be ready in a week or two.

New Lucky Store Opens Doors To Brisk Business

About 30 grocery shoppers were waiting outside when the Fairfax Lucky Store opened its doors for the first time at 9 o'clock this morning.

"It was very gratifying," said manager Robert W. Wilhelm. He reported a brisk business.

Boy Injured When Auto, Bike Collide

Michael James Tucker, 8, of 533 Las Colindas avenue, Terra Linda, was being treated today at Marin General Hospital for head injuries and face cuts, suffered yesterday when his bicycle collided with an automobile.

The California Highway Patrol reported the boy's bike and a car driven by Jacqueline Mae Dervin of 566 Las Colindas avenue, collided at about 4:30 p.m. yesterday at the corner of Las Colindas and Wintergreen. She was not cited.

Also treated at Marin General was Linda Lanning, 10, of 228A Sir Francis Drake boulevard, San Anselmo. Hospital officials reported she fell off her bicycle about 5 p.m. yesterday near her home, and suffered cuts on her legs and ankles.

Union Official Slugs Former I-J Lensman

HONOLULU (AP)—A national Carpenters Union executive board member, who was appointed to investigate an intra-union dispute here, found himself the cause of a scuffle when he arrived yesterday. A former San Rafael Independent-Journal photographer was involved.

Joseph C. Cambiano of San Mateo, came to look into causes of disunity in the local carpenters' union.

He was met at Honolulu International Airport by Jack C. Reynolds, business agent of the Building Trades Council in Honolulu.

Warren Roll, Honolulu Star-Bulletin photographer formerly with the San Rafael paper, started to snap Cambiano's pic and Reynolds stepped between them.

Roll said that Reynolds then struck him on his chin and both started swinging.

Police arrested Roll and Reynolds. They were released on bail pending a court appearance today.

Cambiano is president of the California State Conference of Carpenters. He was sent to Honolulu to investigate charges by officers of carpenters' Local 745 against Reynolds and Charles E. Nichols.

NATURE OF DISPUTE

The dispute centers around Nichols, carpenters' union international representative for Hawaii. His accusers say he used his expense account for lavish entertaining.

They also accused him of excluding local officers from contract negotiations and of raising the racial issue by saying they were freezing out white contractors.

Author Will Speak To History Group

Colorful days when the windjammers sailed into San Francisco Bay will be described by Richard H. Dillon, whose book, "Embarcadero," will soon be off the press, at a public meeting of the Marin County Historical Society at E Street School in San Rafael at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Dillon, librarian of the Sutro Library in San Francisco, has published several books and written many articles. In "Embarcadero" he has captured the drama and color of the early waterfront. Many of the incidents in the book have particular interest to Marin residents. The author-librarian, who lives in Mill Valley, will emphasize these in his talk.

Carrying out the theme of the program and highlighting Library Week, Mrs. Virginia Keating, Marin County librarian and a director of the historical society, is creating a display which includes an old map of the waterfront, prints of early San Francisco and some of the new books in the California Room of the county library. She will also introduce the evening's speaker. The meeting will be conducted by Thomas W. Peryam, president of the society.

On Saturday afternoon, a preview of the society's museum in Boyd Park Lodge, 1025 B street, San Rafael, will be held for members and their guests from 3 to 5 o'clock. The installation of the museum is nearly completed and when it is, it will be open to the public. For the preview Mrs. Keating is placing a special exhibit featuring the Marin County Courthouse.

The small chalet formerly occupied by former King Farouk near the Pyramids in Egypt has now been re-modeled into a restaurant and night club.

Supervisors To Study Fund Plight Of Sausalito Schools

The Sausalito School District's financial troubles, brought on by the redevelopment of Marin City, will be aired once more — this time with the Marin County Board of Supervisors in attendance at a school board meeting.

The county board yesterday voted to attend the Sausalito School Board meeting at 8 p.m. next Tuesday in the school district office.

The school board requested the meeting to discuss the "assessment of Marin City and its impact on the Sausalito School District."

The school board has also invited members of the Marin County Housing Authority and Redevelopment Agency and the county assessor.

Last October, the supervisors agreed to allow certain funds to be paid by the county redevelopment agency to the school district. The agreement was to cover fiscal years 1958-59 and 1959-60, and was estimated to provide $33,000 to the district in each of the two years.

However, Marcus F. Davis, school superintendent, emphasized this was only an estimated figure.

AF Approves Sewer Connection

The Air Force has tentatively approved plans to connect the 505 units of Raphael Village and 147 units of Capehart housing now being built on Hamilton Air Force Base to the Novato Sanitary District sewer system, district directors were told Monday night.

At the same time, the Air Force tentatively dropped earlier plans to connect other areas of the base to the Novato system.

Albert Tresch, secretary-manager of the sanitary district, told the board he has been advised that these plans have been approved by Air Force officials at Hamilton and forwarded to Washington, D.C., for review.

Electric Saw Stolen At Corte Madera

Theft of two electric saws and three 100-foot lengths of heavy duty extension cord from a construction shack at Marin Estates subdivision was reported to Corte Madera police yesed to Core Madera police Monday by Pacific Highlands Development Co.

The firm placed a value of $250 on the stolen items. Police Chief Frank Nelson said the intruder smashed a window to enter the shack.

'BUYING' SPREE ENDED WHEN HE PULLED GUN

DETROIT (AP)—A man who said "my wife splurged for Easter, now it's my turn" spent 45 minutes choosing shirts, ties and other apparel in a store yesterday.

Then he turned a gun on the clerk, took $75 from the cash register and fled with both the money and the clothing.

Sales Tax Hiked In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Pennsylvania's Legislature increased the retail sales tax from 3 to 3½ per cent today.

Gov. David L. Lawrence proposed the increase. The new rate is one of the highest in the nation.

The extra one-half per cent is expected to add 163 million dollars to state revenue every two years. Total revenue from the sales tax would be 500 to 600 million dollars each biennium.

The entire sales tax revenue will be earmarked for the first time for education.

Hearings Set On Plan For Tennis Courts

Public hearings on a proposal for a private tennis club at Puerto Suello Hill in north San Rafael will be held April 28 and May 12 before the San Rafael Planning Commission.

Commission meetings hereafter will be held in the city hall at 7:45 p.m. instead of 7:30, to give members more time for dinner.

Last night, a delegation of residents from the Glen Park avenue area on the east side of Highway 101 appeared before the planning commission to get more information on what the tennis club would be like. John Farrar of Kaehler Construction Co., one of the owners of the proposed club, explained it will be patterned after the Mill Valley Tennis Club.

The property comprises about four and one-half acres on the east side of Glen Park avenue near Myrtle avenue. Farrar explained he plans to use about one and one-half acres of flat land for five tennis courts and a swimming pool. This would leave plenty of space for parking.

He said plans call for 34 parking spaces now, and more if needed. Farrar envisages a quiet club limited to members, with tennis courts at a level high above the houses along Glen Park, and playing limited to daylight hours. No liquor will be served at the club. The pool will be flanked on both sides by tennis courts.

Farrar said he had talked with about 20 or 25 property owners in the area who expressed approval. About a half dozen residents reported last night that Farrar had been most cooperative thus far, and they merely wanted to know more details of the club operation. Farrar said he would be glad to meet with residents and city officials to work out a program acceptable to all.

Chairman Pat Hetherton announced the area need not be rezoned from the present single family residential.

The tennis club could go in with a use permit, giving the planners control on the layout of the grounds, parking and operation.

San Rafael Teachers To Get $200 Raises

San Rafael teachers will get a minimum of $4,500 per year with the coming school year, thus assuring each teacher at least a $200 raise.

The board of education last night decided to raise the present minimum salary of $4,300 by $200, with corresponding increases up the pay scale. The board, however, did not set a maximum ceiling. That will be decided after more information is available on what the income will be for the coming fiscal year.

The pay raise means an added cost of about $26,000 in the elementary school district and about $14,800 in the high school district.

Salaries of administrators and classified personnel were not set, but board members indicated that administrators should get comparable raises of 5 to 6 per cent and classified personnel about 3 to 5 per cent.

Appointment of an inspector for the high school plant south of Terra Linda was postponed to an adjourned meeting set for Monday night, sometime after 8 p.m. The three re-elected board members will be sworn in at the city hall. Then they will convene at the school administration office to elect officers.

The school board last night also:

1. Accepted the resignations of three teachers and hired five new ones.
2. Postponed until Monday night the proposed purchase of an offset duplicating machine.
3. Approved installation of accoustical tile at Short School at about $200 cost.
4. Granted a sewer easement over Hartzell School property to Eichler Homes, Inc., for $1,675.

TRUCKS

that from Inverness will be at the county firehouse in Point Reyes Station.

Thomas J. Barfield, spokesman for the Bolinas group, submitted a petition bearing 346 signatures, requesting that the fire truck be retained in Bolinas. More than 30 persons attended the hearing.

"We are not a part of the Marin Municipal Water District," pointed out Barfield, "and we must depend for our water on the 22,000-acre watershed. That is one-seventh of the total area of the county. All we're seeking is equity and fair play—to ask that our fire truck be retained."

Barfield and Bolinas resident Jack Lowe contended that a truck from the Throckmorton Ridge could not make a trip into the Bolinas watershed area in less than 40 minutes.

"If we lose this watershed, then we have no water to fight our own structural fires," said Barfield.

He claimed that not since 1870, "when a bunch of Bolinas residents came over here to urge against putting the county seat in Bolinas," has the community been so solidly united as it is in its desire to keep the fire warden.

C. W. Fairbank, a representative of the state Division of Forestry, gave assurance that so long as the county continues to work toward complying with the state plan to staff and equip five specified stations, the state will not withdraw appropriations for county timberland and watershed fire protection.

The state pays nearly a third of the county's $300,000 fire protection budget, he said. In return, the Division of Forestry requires that the county work toward establishment of fire stations at Woodacre, Pt. Reyes Station, Throckmorton Ridge, Tomales and Hicks Valley. The plan calls for placing two trucks at Woodacre and one at each of the other stations. Five men must staff each station during the summer fire season.

STATE REQUIREMENTS

"If you chose to continue the one-man stations at Bolinas this summer, that is of no concern to the state, so long as you are meeting the requirements at Throckmorton Ridge," Fairbank told the board.

County Fire Chief Charles Reilley reported it is costing the county approximately $6,000 a year for each of the one-man fire units.

Fairbank said the state's view, is that an around-the-clock fire station with adequate numbers of firemen is the best means of giving protection. The five stations recommended for Marin have been arranged to provide that fire trucks may be sent to any unincorporated spot within 30 minutes, he said.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman suggested a possible solution would be to establish fire districts over all of the county so that no one would escape paying taxes for fire protection.

A motion by Supervisor Vera Schultz that the Bolinas and Inverness fire wardens be retained during the coming fire season, and that the state Division of Forestry be requested to review the fire conditions of Marin County, passed without opposition.

Sanitary Study Group To Meet

The Tiburon Peninsula Sanitary Study Committee will meet in the Belvedere Community Hall at 8 p.m. tomorrow to consider encroachment of the Corte Madera Sanitary District into the planned area of the Tiburon Peninsula, according to Committee Secretary Robert A. Sterling.

The encroachment is in the proposed Paradise Cay development.

Tam High Trustees To Meet Tonight

Only two items are on the agenda for tonight's meeting of the Tamalpais Union High School District Board at 8 o'clock in the district office at Redwood High School.

Trustees will consider the hiring of several new teachers recommended by Supt. Chester G. Carlisle and discuss the commissioning of a district audit covering the 1958-59 school year.

DULLES

more and more obvious as he talked.

Eisenhower reported that he had talked to Dulles by telephone earlier in the morning, and that in view of the doctors' latest findings, the secretary had decided definitely to submit his resignation.

A formal letter will reach him later, the President said.

Eisenhower heaped praise on Dulles, calling him one of the most able men the country has known.

In reply to a question, Eisenhower said that whether or not the job goes to Herter, the acting secretary definitely will be on hand for the United States at both an April 29 meeting of Western foreign ministers in Paris, and a May 11 conference of those ministers with the Soviet Union's foreign minister. That later conference will be held at Geneva and may be a prelude to a summit conference.

A reporter asked Eisenhower to evaluate the impact of Dulles' resignation on U.S. foreign policy.

The President replied that Dulles has developed a team at the State Department and that his work will go on.

The President then expressed confidence that there will "be no damage" to U.S. relations with other countries.

Dulles re-entered Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington last Sunday, cutting short a Florida rest he had taken in an effort to build up his failing strength.

Dulles had gone to the hospital Feb. 10 for a hernia operation. Recurrence of cancer was then discovered. Massive radiation treatments were tried, and Dulles was reported to have stood these well.

When Dulles came back from Florida, there was no question but that he had deteriorated badly. Newsmen who had seen him fairly constantly figured he had lost 15 to 20 pounds of his normal 185.

Then yesterday came the report indicating the cancer may have spread.

$1.5 Million Novato School Budget Eyed

A tentative operating budget of $1,589,529 for the Novato Unified School District for 1959-60 was submitted to the district board last night by Supt. William J. J. Smith.

The budget is up substantially from this year's figure of $1,373,120. Smith said the increase is normal in view of an expected jump in average daily attendance to 3,440 as compared with this year's 3,042.

The board took the tentative budget under consideration, for discussion at a later meeting.

The board also:

1. Indicated it has no objection to a change in district boundaries, requested by builder Reuben Kaehler, which would cut some territory out of the Novato district and place it in the San Jose School District. Involved is Kaehler's Leafwood Terrace development, which lies partly in each district.
2. Approved hiring a second psychologist, Ray Graber, for two days a week for the remainder of the school year.

Citizens Plan Evaluation Of Novato Schools

A four-step study of the Novato school system's educational standards and goals will be undertaken by the North Marin Advisory Council on Education.

Trustees of the Novato Unified School District last night agreed to a council proposal to make such a study, which is planned to be similar to a study now under way in the Reed School District.

BOARD OFFER

The board offered its cooperation and use of district facilities in the study.

The first of four steps is to be started promptly. This involves formation of several citizens' committees to consider various aspects of educational objectives and draft a comprehensive statement of objectives.

The second step will be drafting a questionnaire to be sent to all district residents, asking their wishes as to the function of their schools.

THIRD STEP

Should the Novato study follow the lines of the Reed study, the third step would be to retain a team of educators to evaluate the district in the light of the desired objectives.

The final steps would then be to "implement" all of the earlier findings by drafting recommendations to tailor the school system to what the community desires.

Mrs. Alice Yarish, chairman of the advisory council's committee on educational standards and goals, said she is going ahead immediately with sending invitations to community leaders, asking them to serve on subcommittees to carry out the first step in the study program.

Meeting Called Off

A scheduled meeting of the Marin City Community Services District directors scheduled for tomorrow evening has been canceled because of illnesses and absences from the area, it was announced today.

CHIEF

city manager ordinance lost 3-to-2.

Brewer indicated he does not intend to exercise his authority in appointing a police chief, although "I hope some day this city will give the manager that right."

Mrs. Booth also tangled with Brewer on another matter.

Instead of moving appointment of a successor to Officer Gordon McNair, resigned, from the eligibility list, Brewer proposed the list be thrown out and a new examination held.

Mrs. Booth objected strongly, saying that the two men still on the list "were told they had passed the exam and now we throw it out."

Brewer said Police Chief Donald T. Wood was willing to appoint one of them, but he (Brewer) could recommend neither.

A motion by Councilman Carleton G. E. Little to approve the city manager's recommendation passed 4-1, with only Mrs. Booth voting 'no."

They'll Be Back In Time For Movies

Three escapees will be granted their wish: To be back in San Quentin Prison in time for the Saturday night movie.

Sentenced indeterminate terms yesterday in Humboldt County Superior Court were Frank D. Haygood, 34; Egard E. Bentley, 30, and Robbie O. Craig, 27.

The trio fled the High Rock honor camp near Weott, 30 miles south of Eureka, last December. They held up a tavern in Redding shortly afterward. They were captured in Red Bluff. They were convicted of the robbery and returned to San Quentin.

Taken to Eureka to plead on the escape charge, they admitted guilt and asked Judge W. G. Watson Jr. to bypass the probation report and other details.

The Humboldt County Jail, they complained did not have any entertainment.

They were sentenced and are to be returned to San Quentin tomorrow.

OBITUARIES

Yachtsman Joseph T. Pugh Dies

Joseph Townsend Pugh of Belvedere, retired yacht broker and a founder of the St. Francis Yacht Club in San Francisco, died yesterday afternoon at 84.

Police Chief William Woodington of Belvedere said Pugh apparently had shot himself because of despondency over a long illness.

Mrs. Helen Weick Pugh heard a shot at 1:40 p.m., Chief Woodington said, and ran upstairs to find her husband on the floor of an open sleeping porch, a bullet wound in his head and a .38 caliber revolver lying near him.

He died at 3:30 p.m. at Marin General Hospital without regaining consciousness.

Pugh, a Belvedere resident for 38 years, lived at 10 Pomander walk.

A widely known yachtsman, he was a founding member of the Pacific Coast Yachting Assn. He sailed around the Horn as third mate on a sailing vessel in 1899. As a yacht builder in Southern California prior to World War I he owned, built and sailed such famous racing yachts as the Mahpe and Monsoon. Throughout the years he maintained an avid interest in yachts and racing. Since coming to the Bay Area he had been an independent yacht broker.

He was a native of Pennsylvania.

Pugh served in France during World War I as a captain in the Army Corps of Engineers.

He is survived by his wife and a son, Evan Pugh of Belvedere, who is assistant traffic manager of Overseas Shipping Co. in San Francisco.

Private funeral services are pending at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

Sirens To Be Tested

The Tiburon boulevard and Belveron Gardens fire sirens will sound at noon tomorrow and every noon thereafter to test the equipment.

Jonas F. C. Von Rosen Dies At 78

Jonas F. C. von Rosen, widely known retired naval architect and marine engineer and a Tiburon resident since 1910, died yesterday at a local hospital after a brief illness. He was 78.

A native of Denmark, he was born Baron Jonas Frederik Christian von Rosen as a member of the Schleswig-Holstein branch of the von Rosen family, one of the oldest in Europe. His father was attached to the courts of King Frederik VII and Christian IX of Denmark, which resulted in the son becoming intimately acquainted with Danish royalty.

Von Rosen was educated at Durham University in England. He emigrated to the United States in 1906 and went to work as a naval architect at the Boston Navy Yard. In 1910 he moved to Tiburon, where he joined the Northwestern Pacific Railroad as a designer of some of the line's early ferries, including the historic Eureka.

After becoming a U.S. citizen, he entered federal service, traveling extensively. He designed the destroyer base at San Diego.

He was later appointed to the staff of the governor general of the Philippines, a post he held 10 years. He resigned due to the ill health of his first wife, the former Margrethe Anderson-Kulle of Norway, who died in 1939.

Back in the United States, von Rosen entered the employ of the Mare Island Navy Yard, where he remained until his retirement in 1945.

He was a member of Mill Valley Lodge 356, F&AM, California Scottish Rite Bodies and the California Historical Society.

He is survived by his wife, Obera, at the family home, 2307 Vistazo East, Tiburon, and by two stepchildren, Mrs. Patricia Rawles Betrand of Tiburon and James W. Rawles of Winslow, Ariz.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 3 p.m. at the Russell and Gooch chapel in Mill Valley, under auspices of the Mill Valley Masonic Lodge.

Board Appoints 9 To County Jobs

The county board of supervisors yesterday approved the appointment of eight persons to county jobs.

Those appointed, their positions and starting salaries are as follows:

Legla, planner, $415, in planning commission office; Lenore Montague, telephone operator-receptionist, $295, in communications center; William C. Edrich, fire warden, $325, in fire department; Dr. Gwynn Thomson, deputy physician, $250, in county medical office; Louie You, laundry helper, $268, at county hospital.

Nicest wagon that ever joined your family!

Chevy's station wagons should really be called family wagons. They're roomiest where you need the room. And you can choose from five models, including the Kingswood, with its rear-facing rear seat that gives passengers a whole new outlook!

Here's a brisk and breezy wagon that'll take on any chore you name, from a trip to the beach to a journey home from the lumberyard. There's room, you see, for a whole half-ton of cargo. And plenty of flat, unobstructed space it is—ten feet long, with the rear seat and tailgate down.

These wagons are easy to load, too—you just roll the rear window into the tailgate and flip it down flat. There's no liftgate to wrestle with.

Of course, the nicest thing about a Chevy wagon is the way it takes care of its tasks. Chevrolet's got a crisp, smooth brand of roadability so easy to handle it's a natural for the lady of the house. Chevy's even got bigger tires—they come as standard equipment on every one of our wagons. Big, safer brakes, too. But why not fall in love with a Chevy wagon firsthand—at your Chevrolet dealer's!

Airman Sent To Prison For Marin Holdup

A/Basic Glen Dale McCormick, 31, has been sentenced to one year to life in a state prison by Superior Court Judge Thomas F. Keating for his part in a $107 robbery in an Ignacio liquor store on New Year's Day.

McCormick's companion in the robbery, A/Basic James Ernest Rogers, 22, was given a six months' sentence in the county jail, placed on three years' probation, and ordered to pay $25 to Al's Liquor Store. Victims of the robbery were Mrs. Sally M. Hughes of San Rafael, co-owner of the liquor store, and George Nunes of Raphael Village, a helper.

Both men are assigned to the squadron section headquarters of the Fourth Air Force at Hamilton Air Force Base. Originally charged with armed robbery, they pleaded guilty to the lesser charge of second degree robbery.

Thieves Break Into School Cafeteria

Sheriff's deputies are looking for some hungry thieves who broke into the Marin City School cafeteria Sunday night or Monday morning and took quantities of milk, bananas and corned beef.

A school custodian noticed the entry yesterday about 7 a.m. and called officers. Investigators said the prowlers had climbed in through the girls' washroom window.

Missing is a four-pound can of corned beef, 25 half-pints of milk, 24 pounds of bananas, and butter and cheese. This is the second weekend that thieves have raided the cafeteria.

Inspector Hired For School Job

Reed Union School District trustees Monday appointed David H. Teather inspector of the future Bel Aire School room construction and employed the engineering firm of Abbott and Hanks as soil testers on the project.

Ten teachers were approved for re-employment and the five administrative staff members were rehired. One resignation was received, from Mrs. Roberta Yankey, sixth grade teacher at Reed School. Leland Lincoln, music instructor, was granted leave for the balance of the school year.

A continued budget discussion was set for the next trustee meeting, April 28.

Air Force Atlas missile roared off in a burst of flame yesterday in test launching at Cape Canaveral, Fla., as seen in photo at left. A few seconds later, it came down again in a burst of flame (right) after it malfunctioned and was deliberately blown up. It was the eighth Atlas failure in 23 launchings. (AP Wirephoto)

Russ Jets Trail U. S. Plane On Berlin Flight

BERLIN (UPI) — Two Soviet fighter planes flew to within 600 feet of a U.S. Air Force transport flying the high altitude route to Berlin today but made no attempt to buzz it as on two previous flights.

The high-flying American turbo-prop plane, which the West would use in the event of a new Berlin blockade, was dispatched to West Berlin from West Germany despite previous warnings from the Communists that the West must fly the corridors under 10,000 feet.

A U.S. official said the United States formally notified the Russians in advance by filing a routine flight plan with the Soviet delegate at the Berlin Air Safety Center stating the flight would be made today.

The official said the flight was "not provocative. We merely are asserting our right to fly to and from West Berlin at altitudes of our choosing."

The C130 landed at West Berlin's Tempelhof Airport.

The U.S. official said the two Soviet jets joined the transport shortly after it entered the space over East German territory.

"There was no harassment or buzzing," he said. "The Soviet fighters maintained a distance of about 600 feet. They performed no dangerous flight tactics."

The official said it was a "high altitude" flight. It was assumed by this that the transport flew at about 25,000 feet, which was the altitude flown by the first C130 the Soviets buzzed on March 27.

The Soviets have insisted that Western planes remain below 10,000 feet in the air corridors between West Berlin and West Germany. They said the air above this was reserved for Soviet planes. The United States, Britain and France have insisted there is no ceiling on the corridors.

Dalai Lama To Appear In Public

NEW DELHI, India (UPI)—The Dalai Lama will make his first public appearance in India Saturday and thereby deny Chinese Communist and Soviet charges he was "kidnaped" and is being held under duress, it was announced today.

The charges were repeated in Peiping last night by Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai and the Communist-sponsored Panchen Lama.

Two Taipei newspapers, the United Daily News and the China News, meanwhile reported major fighting in the Chinese province of Tsinghai adjoining Tibet and said tribesmen there had revolted against Peiping.

The China News, quoting Nationalist intelligence reports, said, "The vast desert frontier is burning with freedom fire." It reported anti-Communist elements had cut the main highway leading from the Tsinghai capital of Yushu to Lhasa, with the Red army almost cut off in Tibet and largely dependent on Airborne supplies.

The public appearance of the Dalai Lama was considered significant because of new Peiping charges almost certain to anger anti-Peiping elements in India. One charge said certain Indian political leaders were trying to sabotage Indian-Communist China relations.

Gym Classes To Give Exhibition

Twenty children who have been participating in Sausalito's city-sponsored artistic gymnastics classes will present a public demonstration and competition Saturday at 10:30 a.m. in Central School auditorium, according to Mrs. Andrea Molnar, instructor.

It will be the concluding event in the fall-spring series of classes, in which 50 children and 22 adults participated, Mrs. Molnar said.

Boy Born To Tormes

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Singer Mel Torme and his wife, Arlene, have a 9-pound 11-ounce boy — their first child. The youngster, born Sunday at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital, was named Tracy. Torme has two other sons by a previous marriage.

Speedy Fighter To Reinforce AF In Europe

LAS VEGAS (UPI)—The U.S. Air Force in Europe will be reinforced next fall with the giant new F105 fighter plane that can deliver nuclear weapons with pinpoint accuracy while flying much faster than sound.

Disclosing this today, pilots selected to fly the 25-ton craft described it as probably the longest-range jet fighter in the world. It can carry a hydrogen or an atomic bomb. Its top speed is about 1,400 miles an hour and it thus apparently will be the first fighter in Europe able to fly twice the speed of sound.

LONG RANGE

Its range of at least 1,500 miles can be extended with extra fuel tanks or in-flight refueling.

Four crack pilots, including Maj. Claire P. Chennault, son of the general who led the Flying Tigers in China, were here from Elgin Air Force Base, Fla., for a bombing demonstration in connection with the first World Congress of Flight.

Yesterday, Eldwood R. Quesada, administrator of the new Federal Aviation Agency, told delegates from nearly 50 nations attending the congress that the government was going to crack down hard in allocating "dwindling" air space sought by both the military and commercial groups.

TOO LARGE

Quesada said some of the areas restricted solely to military air operations are "unreasonably" large and must go.

"There is going to be a great deal of competition for our dwindling air space," the former Air Force lieutenant-general said, and the FAA probably will "make few friends" in laying down new regulations for its use.

Castro Due To Arrive In U. S. Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro will arrive tonight for what promises to be a stormy 11-day unofficial visit to the United States.

State Department security agents and Washington police have arranged to give him one of the tightest protective rings ever given a foreign visitor.

Castro, accompanied by a heavy guard of bearded revolutionary protectors, will fly in with a party of about 35 persons in a chartered Cuban government C54.

A number of threats, warning that Castro will never leave the country alive, have alarmed authorities. Demonstrations and picketing are expected during his five-day stay in the capital and a similar visit in New York.

But his visit apparently will be a hit attraction. The National Press Club said the 505 seats for its luncheon next Monday honoring Castro were sold out in less than an hour.

Castro is hoping his visit will improve Cuba's relations with the United States and Canada.

China Tells Spread Of Communes

TOKYO (AP)—Red China today claimed that its revolutionary commune system now embraces 99 per cent of its peasant families.

A communique from the nation's Statistical Bureau said 20 million households had been organized into 26,000 communes. They were formed from more than 700,000 agricultural cooperatives, Peiping Radio said.

Under the commune system, the peasants farm according to a centralized plan and under central direction, live usually in camps and settlements, eat in community dining rooms, turn their children, during work hours, over to commune nurseries, kindergartens and schools, and send their aged to old folks homes.

The name of the Dominican Republic, in the West Indies, is evolved from St. Dominic, patron saint of the father of Columbus.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Tragedy At Hospital

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. William Barfield went to a hospital yesterday afternoon to visit Mrs. Barfield's parents who were hurt in a weekend auto accident.

The Barfields were hurriedly summoned to the hospital emergency room. A boy had been brought in, critically hurt after running into the side of an auto. He died.

The boy was the Barfields' son, Timothy.

A-Bomb Victim Suicide

HIROSHIMA (UPI)—University freshman Mitsuo Nishimura, who survived a radiation illness caused by the atom bombing of Hiroshima in 1945, died yesterday of an overdose of sleeping pills. His mother said he had an extreme phobia about dying from a recurrence of his illness. His elder brother was killed by the bomb.

Grivas Story For Film

ATHENS, Greece (UPI) — Lt. Gen. George Grivas has agreed on a Hollywood movie treatment of his role as leader of the Greek Cypriot Eoka underground movement, providing he can approve the script, informed sources said today.

The former underground fighter, who directed the anti-British campaign on Cyprus for more than three years, has been discussing plans for a movie of his life with Hollywood producer Al Rosen. Grivas came out of hiding on the Mediterranean Island and went to Athens following negotiations that will make the British colony an independent republic in the near future.

Racial Bar Approved

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A private school may exclude students on the basis of race, the Appellate Department of Superior Court has ruled.

The decision yesterday affirmed a lower court ruling that refusal of a private school to admit a student does not violate sections of the civil code governing discrimination by establishments open to the public.

In the case at issue, Dr. A. Palmer Reed alleged his daughter Cynthia, 6, was refused admittance to the Hollywood Professional School because she is a Negro.

Brubeck Raps Bias

LOGAN, Utah (AP)—Jazz Pianist Dave Brubeck says "race prejudice is going to make this country lose the world if it is not changed in a hurry."

"It's losing us Europe, the Middle East, Asia, South Africa —what else is there?" Brubeck said in an interview before a concert at Utah State University.

"When I write a Broadway show or play, it'll be on the racial problem. Blatant hypocrisy is what is holding our country back from where it should be," he added.

Russ Auto Due In U.S.

BOSTON (AP)—A Soviet trade official says the Soviet Union plans to introduce one of its automobile lines in the United States and promote it with advertising.

N. N. Smeliakov, president of the Amtorg Trading Corp., said last night the car, the Moskvitch, will be put on display at a trade fair in New York in June.

9 Yanks Punished

TOKYO (AP)—Nine American youths—ranging in age from 15 to 22—have been punished on the claim of an 18-year-old Japanese girl that they raped her.

Five of the youths, sons of Air Force personnel or civilians attached to the Air Force, were sent back to the United States. Two airmen were punished by their unit commanders and two others, sons of Air Force personnel, were put on probation.

Menzies To Visit U.S.

CANBERRA, Australia (AP)—Australian Prime Minister Robert Menzies plans to visit Washington May 22-27 to discuss foreign and financial matters with President Eisenhower.

Menzies also will confer with Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker in Ottawa, beginning May 21, and after the Washington visit will hold discussions with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan in London.

Oslo Protests Takes

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Motor traffic stopped almost completely for one hour in Norway at noon today in protest against new taxes on autos.

Huge crowds in Oslo filled the main street outside the Parliament building, blocking the few official cars which tried to move. Inside Parliament representatives of major motoring organizations delivered a protest against the new taxes.

The government has imposed a 10-25 per cent extra sales tax on all cars, and new taxes on gas and diesel powered buses and trucks are proposed for later this year.

Boy Guilty Of Murder

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Jerry Pacek, physically matured far ahead of his 14 years, was convicted last night of second degree murder in the sex slaying of a 54-year-old neighbor.

The chain-smoking youth with a receding hairline turned out to be just a boy after all, slumping into a chair and weeping as the jury returned its verdict after 8½ hours deliberation.

One of the youngest defendants in Pennsylvania history, Pacek faces a maximum sentence of 10 to 20 years in prison for the bludgeoning last Nov. 17 of Mrs. Lillian Stevick on a secluded lot in nearby Brackenridge where both lived.

Sentence was deferred pending a possible motion for a new trial.

Twins Prosecuted

VAN NUYS (AP)—Keith Bromley made an illegal right turn while driving with his twin brother Ken one day.

An officer approached the car. Keith, whose driver's license had been suspended, grabbed his brother's license. But the officer spotted him.

Yesterday Keith got a $64 fine, a 30-day suspended sentence and one year's probation. Brother Ken was fined $25 for letting Keith use his license. The brothers, identical twins, are 28.

Food Stamp Bill Studied

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two Senate Democrats are reported preparing a food stamp bill to provide 600 million dollars a year to supplement the diets of needy Americans.

Sens. Stuart Symington (Mo.) and Hubert H. Humphrey (Minn.) expect to introduce the measure later this week. Both are members of the Senate Agriculture Committee. Similar plans failed to clear Congress in the past.

Rhee Will Run Again

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — President Syngman Rhee, 84, today announced he definitely will run for a fourth four-year term in 1960.

San Rafael Officials To Get More Pay

Most San Rafael city officers will get higher salaries when they take office for the new term next Monday.

New Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa will draw $800 per month, with a car allowance of about $75 to be voted during the coming budget sessions. Present Chief Frank Kelly is getting $525 as chief, $150 as "parking meter supervisor" and a $75 car allowance for a total of $750 per month.

City Clerk W. L. Morgan will get $750 per month, plus a $50 car allowance to be voted during budget sessions. He now gets $625 salary as clerk, $100 as "finance officer" and $50 car allowance, for a total of $775.

Tax Collector-Treasurer Angelina Soldavini will get a raise from $525 to $650.

City Atty. Albert E. Bagshaw's salary will remain at $550 per month. So will the $100 salary for Mayor John F. McInnis and $50 per month for each of the city councilmen.

Members of the board of education receive no pay.

New Doors Installed At Ross Firehouse

Two new doors for the Ross Fire Station were installed yesterday. Made of redwood, the new doors open overhead instead of outward as the old doors did.

Fire trucks formerly had a clearance of about an inch and a half on each side. With the new doors, clearance on each side is increased to one foot, said Asst. Fire Chief Carl Olson.

Apartment Zoning Due 2 Hearings

The proposed rezoning of East San Rafael Assessment District between Francisco boulevard and the bay for apartment houses will get two public hearings.

The planning commission last night set the hearing dates for May 12 and May 26 at 7:45 p.m. in the city hall. All property owners in the district will be notified of the hearings by mail.

This is the area where roads and utilities were installed at a cost of more than a million dollars to induce commercial and industrial development. But when industry failed to take hold, property owners were forced to go back to apartment buildings. Several owners now want to rezone the area for apartments again, to prevent a hodge-podge of apartments adjoining factories.

Patients' Friend Receives Award

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — For 10 years, patients at Letterman Army Hospital were unable to learn the identity of the friend who bestowed Christmas gifts, fishing trips and other excursions on some of them.

Yesterday, they learned. In a private ceremony, from which newsmen were excluded, the hospital commander, Col. A. L. Tynes, presented Mrs. Florence Hellman Ehrman, wife of a San Francisco attorney, with one of the Army's rarest awards, the Patriotic Civilian Service Award.

Tynes said Mrs. Ehrman's gifts had totaled thousands of dollars. She learned of deserving patients through a friend.

Take all its beauty, balance it gracefully on a wider, steadier wheel design and you have a car the likes of which you've never owned. The wheels are five inches farther apart. This widens the stance, but not the car. You're secure at the controls, more comfortable from head to toe. There's a noticeable lack of lean and sway. Narrow track cars fall far short by comparison. GARY ROGERS
Wins Navy scholarship

Marinite In Line For Navy Scholarship

Gary Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Rogers of 16 Los Cerros drive, Greenbrae, has been notified that he has qualified as a principal candidate for a Naval ROTC scholarship.

The four-year scholarship covers tuition, textbooks, fees and $50 per month at any of 52 universities where a Naval ROTC program is established.

Gary was also named as an alternate candidate for the U. S. Naval Academy in February by Rep. Clement W. Miller. He is a senior at Sir Francis Drake High School, life member of the Honor Crew, co-editor of the yearbook, an Eagle Scout, and builder of a bateau in which he has made long trips down the Eel and Russian Rivers.

Fire Board Decides On Site Offer

The Tiburon Fire Protection District last night decided to offer $8,500 for the Joseph and Rota Paoli Paradise drive-Trestle Glen property, sought for a firehouse site.

If the offer is rejected the district will proceed with a condemnation suit for the half-acre site for the Belveron-Gardens-Paradise drive substation. A fire truck is now housed in a garage on Paradise drive as a temporary substation.

The commission requested the county counsel's office to prepare petitions starting annexation into the district of the proposed 240-home Paradise Cay development.

The commission requested that the board of supervisors appoint the second and third highest candidates in last week's election to fill out the five-man commission approved at the same election. It recommended Paul C. Hantzsche of Paradise drive for a three-year term and Kelly J. Wheeler of Belveron Gardens for a two-year term.

Canvass of the election and counting three absentee ballots did not change the results but cut down newly elected commissioner Fred C. Hannah's lead over Hantzsche to only five votes. Hannah will take office at the May meeting.

Drunken Driver Receives Fine

A stern warning not to mix alcohol and driving was administered yesterday along with a $263 fine and six months' probation to George Donald Currie, 40, partner in the Old Spaghetti Factory restaurant in San Francisco.

Currie had claimed he became tipsy more from cough medicine than from Scotch whisky. Sausalito police arrested him on Second street last Aug. 7. He was found guilty of drunken driving by a Marin Municipal Court jury three weeks ago.

County Accepts Bid For Bonds

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday accepted the bid of Stone and Youngberg, San Francisco, for the sale of $14,323 in Tamalpais Valley flood control bonds.

The investment house offered to pay 101½ per cent of par value with an accrued interest rate of 5½ per cent interest.

The bond issue was required to raise local funds needed for a $630,000 Army Corps of Engineers flood control project on Coyote Creek.

Untruthful Solicitors Lose Licenses

Eight young salesmen who tried to collect money in the Marinwood area Monday night under false pretenses lost their solicitors permits.

They made the mistake of knocking on the door of one of Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos' special deputies, Edwin Wallace Lewin of 513 Idleberry drive. John Sorrall Miller, 19, who gave his home address as Westminster, Calif., told Lewin he was trying to raise funds to build a gymnasium for a hot rod club known as the Road Angels. Lewin got suspicious and called the sheriff. Deputy Ed McKamey questioned Miller, who admitted it was a hoax.

Seven others rounded up with Miller included Charles Arthur Peavey, 18, El Centro; James Joseph Fox, 18, Wilmington; Jerry C. Humphreys, 18, Sacramento; Donald John Long, 20, Sacramento; a 17-year-old from Burbank; John Cornelius, 18, of Lemon Grove, and David Lee Witworth, 20, of Bagdad, Ariz.

The sheriff revoked their licenses on grounds they were misrepresenting the facts.

Housewife Denies Slugging Neighbor In Dog-Cat Chase

A young Mill Valley housewife, accused of beating a neighbor woman because a dog chased her cat up a tree, pleaded innocent of assault and battery in Marin Municipal Court Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Violet Masse, 32, of 854 Marin drive was released on her own recognizance until trial at 10 a.m. Friday before Judge Richard M. Sims Jr.

Her accuser, Mrs. Ameliese Schardt, 31, of 839 Marin drive, told Deputy Sheriff James Baird that she and Mrs. Frank J. Porter of 834 Marin drive were walking along their street on Sunday. As they approached the Masse home, Mrs. Schardt's German shepherd dog chased the Masse cat, which was tied to a tree. The cat broke loose and climbed the tree.

Mrs. Schardt, disheveled and her dress torn in front, told the deputy that Mrs. Masse had come out and knocked her to the pavement.

Study Of Gas Tax Hike To Be Asked

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A resolution calling for an interim committee study of a one-cent a gallon gasoline tax increase will be introduced in the Senate soon, according to Sen. Richard Richards (D-Los Angeles).

Richards made the announcement yesterday and at the same time denied reports that he would offer a bill this session to boost the gasoline tax one penny a gallon.

Richards said he had contacted certain groups to find out their feeling on the proposal and "someone misunderstood and jumped to the conclusion that I would introduce such legislation this session."

SCOUT PACKS FOUND FIT TO FLOAT

Three hundred and ninety boys from the Central District of Marin Boy Scout Council will go by Navy launch Saturday morning to Angel Island for a weekend "camporee." So it's appropriate that Capt. Douglas L. Bell, inspector-instructor of the 14th Rifle Company, Marine Corps Reserve, checks packs of Eddie Brown (front), Larry Dwyer (middle) and Don Irey (rear) to make sure they're packed to float—just in case. Sixty-seven adults will accompany the boys on the outing. The Central District includes the Ross and San Geronimo Valleys and West Marin. (Independent-Journal photo)

Panel To Discuss Selection Of Chief

"How should a general law city select its police chief?" will be the subject of a radio station KTIM "Marin Sounding Board" discussion at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

Two San Anselmo City Council members voted last night for an intra-departmental promotional examinations for police chief will be among the panelists. They are Mayor Arthur W. Smith and Councilman Carmel H. Booth. Other panelists will be Ronald E. Piper, city manager of Larkspur, and Paul van Loon, former Mill Valley resident who is personnel director of Richmond. Kitty Oppenheimer will be moderator.

Three Recreation Trustees Named

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday approved the appointment of three trustees to the Strawberry Recreation District.

They are John Thomas, James W. Gower and Marcel Ehrer. They had been recommended by the Strawberry Property Owners Assn.

Brown Pleased With Results Of State Tour

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown, a super-salesman for his program of "responsible liberalism," said today his whirlwind campaign to "report to the people" was a great success.

Brown told newsmen his grassroots tour of the state was a "rewarding experience" and he said he would do it again.

"On my next trip, I will report on the results of the present session of the Legislature," he said, "and on the batting average of the special interests."

OBVIOUSLY PLEASED

The Democratic governor, who ended a 48-hour border-to-border tour of the state here last night, obviously was pleased with the reception he was accorded. He told reporters who accompanied him on his aerial tour that he was gratified by the response which greeted him in appearances from Eureka to San Diego.

In every stop—Eureka, Oakland, Fresno, Santa Barbara, Los Angeles and San Diego—Brown was greeted by capacity crowds.

He said very little that was new—but he hammered away at the theme that his program would lead California into a great era of progress and prosperity.

FINAL SPEECH

In the final speech of his tour, Brown singled out educators and administrators of the public school system. And he chose for a forum a meeting of the California Assn. of School Business Officials.

"I frankly think we need fewer administrators and more teachers for our children," Brown told the somewhat surprised educators.

He said the state university and state colleges must stop "the vague and increasingly conflicting" race between them, and he said he would support strong legislation to compel more of the 1,700 school districts in the state to unify.

The governor stressed two main themes on his tour—fiscal responsibility and the need for a statewide water program.

'I Will Do My Best'

Sewer Board Might Make NMWD Loan

A possible source of funds, at a favorable interest rate, for the North Marin Water District's planned south Novato water line was opened up Monday night by directors of the Novato Sanitary District.

The sanitary board, noting that it has read in the newspapers of the water district's need to borrow about $60,000 in order to go ahead promptly with the south Novato line, indicated a willingness at least to discuss lending NMWD that amount from surplus sanitary district funds.

Thomas Hardcastle, president of the sanitary board, emphasized today that the board did not make an offer of such a loan. It merely noted that the sanitary district has about $100,000 in surplus funds on deposit at three per cent interest, and would be willing to discuss lending $60,000 of it to the water district, if such an arrangement is legal and advantageous to the water district.

Jerome B. Gilbert, manager of the water district, learned of the sanitary board discussion from the Independent-Journal and said that the matter appears worth discussing.

Slides Will Show Area Eyesores

An innivation at city council meetings will be offered in Mill Valley tonight when Robert Royston, landscape architect and member of the city's architectural advisory committee, will show a series of slides picturing "eye sores" in and around Mill Valley.

Royston will show the slides starting at 7:30 p.m., a half hour preceding the normal starting time for council meetings.

Items on the council's agenda include possible authorization of an $1,100 expenditure to match a similar amount from the county for removing former Northwestern Pacific rails near Tamalpais High School to permit realignment and improvement of outer Miller avenue; introduction of a more stringent anti-loitering ordinance, and reports on drainage capital outlay funds and the Bolsa avenue assessment district.

For the first time in this century, the United States is growing wood faster than it is being removed from the forests.

Bill Would Allow Jai Alai Betting

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A bill to legalize jai alai betting is up before the Legislature again.

Similar bills were introduced in previous sessions but always were rejected.

The latest measure, introduced yesterday by Sen. Charles Brown (D-Shoshone), would create a three-member board to supervise jai alai games in California and allow betting on the games.

Jai alai is somewhat smilar to handball and draws many bettors in Mexico.

County Accepts Bid

The county board of supervisors yesterday accepted the bid of $7,995 by Corrugated Culvert Co. of Sacramento, the lowest of six submitted, for corrugated metal pipe and band couplers to stock the county department of public work's supply.

RED CAPTIVE HOME AGAIN

Army Sgt. Kenneth G. Carlson, 22, of San Leandro, points to spot on map in East Germany where he spent 68 days in a Communist prison because he boarded a wrong train. Sergeant Carlson arrived home Monday. He was released Feb. 5 after lengthy negotiations by International Red Cross officials. Carlson said he got on an elevated train that he thought would take him to downtown West Berlin. Instead, the train went into East Germany and Carlson was imprisoned in Potsdam. (AP Wirephoto)

Hub To Study Sharing Services Of Engineer

City managers of San Anselmo and Mill Valley have the San Anselmo council's go-ahead to explore joint use by the two cities of a full-time city engineer.

The San Anselmo council last night, by 4-1 vote, authorized City Manager Arthur W. Brewer to explore further the idea. Councilman Carmel H. Booth voted "no."

Brewer, who proposed the idea to the council, said he and City Manager A. E. Almcrants of Mill Valley recognized that apportioning the time of such a joint employee would present problems, "but they do not seem insuperable."

"It's a step in the right direction," said Councilman Carleton G. E. Little, who last year backed Brewer's unsuccessful move to replace fee-basis City Engineer John C. Oglesby with a full-time public works director for the Hub City.

Also at last night's San Anselmo council meeting:

1. Introduction of an ordinance embodying the Uniform Fire Prevention Code was postponed at request of City Atty. John G. Buresh.

2. The council rejected a claim by Carl Shapiro, attorney for Morris Kranzman and Eddie Silverman, for $720.50 damages, court costs and attorney fees in connection with city removal in September, 1957, of a rear lean-to portion of a building on San Anselmo avenue which was condemned as a flood and fire hazard. A municipal court judgment awarded Douglas Brown, tenant in the building, the amount as damages against his landlords. City Atty. John G. Buresh declared there is no basis for a claim against the city.

3. The council voted to renew an agreement with Mark-a-Line Co. of Sausalito for street striping and lettering, on an "open-end" 60-day cancellable basis.

4. Bids were called for May 12 on a series of projects: A drainage culvert on San Anselmo avenue near the Safeway store; reconstruction of the Taylor avenue bridge and a drainage tube along Sir Francis Drake boulevard from near Zipp's Drive-in to near the Drake Market.

5. The city street department was authorized to install some drainage facilities in the city park to make possible an additional baseball diamond, and to reconstruct the Los Angeles avenue footbridge.

6. Public hearing on the Ash avenue assessment district was set for May 12.

7. Final map of a subdivision of Mrs. Gladys Smith's property on Holstein road was approved, subject to receipt of a certificate of title.

A NEW KIND OF PHONE BOOTH RECORD

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (UPI)—Radio Station WAPO squeezed an engineer, announcer, broadcast equipment, a record player and a stack of records into a telephone booth yesterday.

They broadcast from it for two hours.

Assembly Group Votes To Sell Fairground Site

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The Assembly Efficiency Committee has voted to sell the site of the proposed new California state fairgrounds northeast of Sacramento for five million dollars to help balance the state budget.

Assemblyman Walter I. Dahl (R-Oakland) told the committee yesterday that sale of the fairgrounds would not only pick up extra cash at the present time, it would prevent the state from spending 75 million dollars to develop the site.

However, Assemblyman Thomas MacBride (D-Sacramento) argued that the site development would cost the state only 25 millions dollars. He said the other 50 million dollars would be paid by businesses which wish to set up "permanent display of their wares."

MacBride told the committee that the state would lose money by selling the property at the present time. "The value of that land can't do anything but go up," he said.

Auto Smog Bill Goes To Brown

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill requiring the state Public Health Department to set air pollution standards for auto exhausts went to Gov. Edmund G. Brown today.

The Senate yesterday concurred with two Assembly amendments to the bill.

One change requires the department to determine the level of exhaust contamination; the other formally names the bill the Richards-Rees Act, after its authors, Sen. Richard Richards and Assemblyman Thomas Rees, both Los Angeles Democrats.

Hub Council Votes To Keep Police Transcript Secret

The transcript of testimony about the San Anselmo Police Department, taken by a three-man city council committee at a "secret" hearing, today was salted away somewhere in the Hub City's archives, safe from public view.

The city council last night voted against making the transcript public, after John P. O'Connell, attorney for Asst. Police Chief Sam N. Serio, reported he and his client agreed no good purpose would be served by publicizing it.

Last week, O'Connell first asked that the transcript be made public, then requested that it be given him for study. He said last night that he had read it and told Serio about what it contained.

He added that City Manager Arthur W. Brewer's report of investigation of major charges against the police department, which was made public by Councilman Carmel H. Booth after last week's meeting, was "very fair and impartial" and Brewer should be commended.

Mrs. Booth moved that Brewer be so commended and that the transcript be not made public but he made available to her and Mayor Arthur W. Smith —neither of whom has yet read it. The motion passed unanimously.

U. S. 'Flying Saucer' Takes To Air Soon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States will test-fly its first "flying saucer" this summer, a defense expert said today.

The expert, who is connected with the program, said the public will be "absolutely amazed" at the new manned aircraft when Pentagon secrecy wraps finally are taken off, perhaps this year.

"I've never seen anything like it in all the years I've spent in aviation," he said, "and that's most of my life."

He said the saucer will be able to skim close to the ground, dart between trees, dip into small valleys and generally hug the earth's surface, thus confounding enemy radar. It also will be able to hover over a fixed spot and move sideways.

The saucer will provide the Army with a modern airbone "cavalry," he said. Troops and supplies could be rushed anywhere despite the terrain — whether it be mud, ice, water or mountains.

A few tid-bits about the saucer were disclosed at congressional hearings Monday, namely that it was not designed for use in outer space. However, the saucer will be able to fly at altitudes now reached by conventional aircraft.

The speed is secret but the model being developed for the Army will zip along at a clip "less than supersonic." However, it will go faster than other vertical takeoff aircraft such as the helicopter.

Inflation Is Here

NEW YORK (UPI)—A worker who made $5,000 in 1939 must earn $12,113 in 1959 to get the equivalent amount of purchasing power, the National Industrial Conference Board said yesterday.

San Anselmo Re-Elects Mayor Smith

Arthur W. Smith was re-elected mayor of San Anselmo last night by 3-2 vote of the city council.

Smith was nominated to serve his fourth straight year as mayor by Councilman Carmel H. Booth. Councilman Carleton G. E. Little then put in nomination Councilman William Franchini.

In nominating Franchini, Little read a prepared statement which said:

"During the last five or so years, our council meetings have deteriorated in the opinion of many of our citizens. To restore the confidence which the council has lost is a difficult task but not hopeless."

HIGHEST VOTE

He cited the fact that Franchini got the highest vote of five council candidates last year, and declared Franchini could have been elected mayor unanimously last year had he so chosen.

"Instead, he felt he could better serve a year hence," said Little. "Now he can heed the people's mandate."

Little went on: "Split as this council is, the present mayor is placed in the position of perpetuating himself in office simply by voting for himself."

Smith did just that.

As City Clerk Anita M. Gannon called the roll on Smith's name, Mrs. Booth and Councilman Jordan L. Martinelli Jr. voted "yes"; Councilmen Little and Franchini, "no." Smith, called last, added his "yes" vote. Applause burst from the sparse audience as he did so.

REASON FOR VOTE

Franchini then assured Smith that he voted against him only because it was agreed last April that the election of mayor would be for one year only. Smith replied that nothing was agreed to prevent a man from succeeding himself in the mayoralty.

A few minutes later, Smith thanked Booth and Martinelli "for your confidence in me."

"I have confidence in you," spoke up Franchini.

"I do too," added Little.

Franchini subsequently was re-elected vice mayor, by unanimous vote.

Novato High Pupils Place High In Test

For the second straight year, Novato High School sophomores, as a group, placed "well above national norms" in the nationally administered Iowa Test of educational development, school officials announced today.

The Novato students rated in the top 10 per cent of all students in the nation who took the test, and were above the national average in each of the nine parts of the test, said Gilbert Guerin, Novato Unified School District psychologist.

"The California Reading Test showed Novato elementary students to have a reading achievement above the test average for each grade level tested," Guerin added.

Emphasis in the Iowa Test is placed on "broad intellectual skills and involves the understanding and ability to use what has been learned," Guerin said.

Mrs. Booth Abandons Plans To Seek Recall

Carmel H. Booth disclosed at last night's San Anselmo City Council meeting that she has dropped plans to seek the recall of two fellow council members.

The matter was brought up by Councilman Carleton G. E. Little, one of Mrs. Booth's targets. (The other was William Franchini.)

"It is the people's prerogative to vote us out of office, if Mrs. Booth is not bluffing— and I hope she isn't," said Little. "But if we get a vote of confidence, I hope she'll consider that a vote of non-confidence in herself."

Mrs. Booth replied, smiling: "I have decided there is a law of retribution, and I won't have to help it along. . . . I had 10 petitions ready, but I'm going to withhold them."

"I've had it brought to my attention several times that you intend to run for supervisor next year," said Little.

"Oh, for heaven's sake!" snapped Mrs. Booth. "I'll be running for president next!"

The exchange began when Little took occasion to declare: "It is the duty of every member of the council to support the city manager."

Mrs. Booth immediately moved that "we find out exactly what our city administrative office has cost us from November, 1957, to date." (Arthur W. Brewer in November, 1957, became San Anselmo's first city manager since 1916.)

The motion lost, 3-2, with Mayor Arthur W. Smith voting with Mrs. Booth.

Giants Send Antonelli Against Banks & Co. Tonight

Ernie Just Too Much For Sanford In S. F. Opener

Moe Drabowsky, one of the Giants' most beloved "cousins," takes another shot at them tonight when he goes to the mound for the Chicago Cubs against San Francisco's Johnny Antonelli.

Drabowsky's lifetime record against Manager Bill Rigney's maulers is one win and seven defeats. They found him duck-soup on several occasions last year before he went home with a sore arm.

Antonelli, who posted his first win last Friday in the season-opener against the St. Louis Cardinals, has the edge on the Bruins with a 13-11 lifetime mark.

A guy named Ernie Banks was the big factor yesterday as Chicago ruined the Giants' home opener by defeating them, 5-2, before a crowd of 22,485. Ernie, who led both leagues last season with 47 home runs, got the range for the first time yesterday and blasted a pair of round trippers with rookie George Altman on base. That was the difference.

But the Giants, who won more than 20 games in the final inning last season and already have pulled off the trick twice this year, nearly did it again Tuesday.

HILLMAN FADES

With one out in the ninth, winner Dave Hillman began to fade and Orlando Cepeda singled off him. Hillman was taken out in favor of Don Elston and then the pressure really mounted. Felipe Alou sent Cepeda to third with a single to center, his second hit of the day. Daryl Spencer fanned but Elston loaded the bases by hitting Andre Rodgers. On came Bob Schmidt. And the burly catcher looked at a third strike to end it.

Both of Banks' clouts came off loser Jack Sanford (0-1) who set the stage for them by walking the huge Altman in the fourth inning and giving up a single to him in the eighth. Banks then came on to belt his first homer of the year into the left field stands and follow with a 400 foot shot over the barriade in left center.

FAST BALL—POW!

"This is the first time in my life I ever had any success against Sanford," said the quiet Banks who wears his most valuable player mantle humbly. "I guess I have hit a home run or two off him but never a pair in one game. He fed me fast balls both times."

"I used fast balls," Sanford concurred. "I thought I had good stuff on both, and especially the first one. But he connected."

Hillman, who pitched the first 8⅓ innings to get his initial win, joined the gopher ball club himself in the second frame when Orlando Cepeda opened it with a single and Felipe Alou crashed a long drive into the back row of the left field stands. But then Chicago got to Sanford, who hurled hitless ball for the first three innings and fanned seven for his day's work.

Sanford went out for a pinch hitter in the eighth inning and Chicago collected one more run in the final frame off Al Worthington without getting a bingle. Catcher Sam Taylor was hit by a pitch, stole second, went to third on a bad throw by Cepeda and tallied on a fielder's choice.

Knockout 'Certain' In TV Slugfest Tonight

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—A knockout appeared almost inevitable tonight when fourth-ranked heavyweight Sonny Liston clashes with slugger Cleveland Williams in a 10-round nationally-televised event at Miami Beach Auditorium.

The fast-rising Liston, a 2-1 favorite, has knocked out 14 of 24 opponents while winning 23 fights, 17 in a row.

Williams, hoping for a spot in the heavyweight rankings, has cooled 36 opponents in compiling a 44-2 record. He has won his last 11 fights in a row since his discharge from the Army.

Although Liston never has lost by a knockout and Williams was flattened only once, the oddsmakers predicted tonight's match has little chance of going the full 10 rounds.

LISTON FAVORED

If Liston wins—and most of the experts figure he will—it just might enhance his chances for a crack at the heavyweight title now held by Floyd Patterson. However, Liston has had trouble getting opponents in the past and Patterson already has two title fights planned for this year.

It was here last February that Liston vaulted into prominence by defeating high-ranked Mike De John in only six rounds. A week later, unranked Charley Powell stopped second-ranked heavyweight Nino Valdes in eight rounds under the same lights.

Ironically, the only time Williams ever was knocked out also happened at Miami Beach. He last only three rounds against Bob Satterfield in 1954.

MARIN EDGES SERRA IN 10 INNINGS, 2-1

Third sacker Johnny Boccabella's bases loaded single in the 10th inning scored Jack Hendrickson with the run that gave the Marin Catholic Wildcats a 2-1 triumph over Serra yesterday in a Catholic Athletic League showdown at Marin's diamond.

The win lifted the Wildcats into a tie with Serra for the league lead, each team boasting a 3-1 won-lost record.

Boccabella's key blow, his second of the game, broke up the terrific pitching battle between Serra's Vince Casetta and Marin's Craig Goldman. Goldman scattered six hits and shutout the visitors for nine innings after they touched him for their only marker in the first inning. Marin got its first tally when Jerry DeRosa walked, stole second and came in on Doug Wilson's single in the fourth.

Class B—Tie—Mrs. Ed Fohrman, 53-17—36 and Mrs. Gordon Wardlaw, 54-18—36; Mrs. G. B. Richardson, 56-18—38.

Vallejo, S. R., Drake Win Prep Games

Tamalpais High School's usually steady pitching went out of control yesterday and the Indians suffered an 8-4 setback to the Vallejo Apaches in a North Bay League Section I game at Vallejo.

Ronnie Cole's control betrayed him as the Tam hurler hit eight Vallejo batters with pitched balls and walked five others to make it easy for the Apaches to roll up their third straight NBL triumph. It was Tam's first loss in three tries.

In other games, San Rafael downed Redwood, 5-1 at San Rafael, Napa topped Santa Rosa, 6-2 and Drake edged Montgomery, 5-4.

Vallejo had to come from behind to earn its victory as Tam got off to a 4-2 lead in the first three innings. Ron Slack with a double and single and Tim Farrell with two singles and two runs batted in led Tam in its early success.

TWO-HITTER

San Rafael tried out its shortstop, John Spadoni, on the mound and he delivered in outstanding fashion, giving up only two hits while striking out nine in the Bulldogs' 5-1 win over Redwood.

Spadoni also helped his cause with a triple, one of three slugged by the Bulldogs. The others were by Mike Cicero and John Cuthbert. Rod Tivel and Al Lamperti each drove in a run for San Rafael.

Only Redwood batters to solve the slants of Spadoni were Bob Ostaggi with a triple and Taylor with a single.

Dick Spackman came in to stop a Montgomery rally in the fourth inning and his Drake mates rallied for two runs in the fifth and one in the sixth to eke out its 5-4 triumph at Santa Rosa.

Bulldog Frosh Win

Ron Melton's home run and Al Finley's triple backed up the fine pitching of Darrell Raven yesterday when the San Rafael High School freshman baseball team blanked Redwood, 6-0 at San Rafael.

NATIONAL LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Pirates Continue Tailspin; Cards Finally Win For Solly

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The St. Louis Cardinals finally won one for new manager Solly Hemus. That leaves Pittsburgh's Pirates sticking out like a sore thumb as the National League's only winless club.

Hemus, making the shift from utility infielder to skipper, put Stan Musial back on first base last night at Los Angeles after the Cards had lost their first three games at home. Stan the Man (1-for-15) was hitless, but his replacement in left field, Chuck Essegian, paid off with a double that brought in the winning run for a 6-2 decision over the Dodgers.

In the other NL night game, ex-Buc Bob Purkey became the season's first two-game winner by taking his fifth in a row from Pittsburgh in a 3-2 victory at Cincinnati. That left the Pirates, with an 0-4 record.

BRAVES WIN

Milwaukee's champion Braves (3-0) became the lone unbeaten club in the N.L. with a 10-inning, 4-3 victory over Philadelphia. The Chicago Cubs spilled San Francisco to a first defeat 5-2.

Right-hander Lindy McDaniel, the elder half of the Gards' bonus brothers who went sour last year, gave up seven hits, walked but one and had the Dodgers shut out for seven innings. It was his first victory and complete game since beating Dodgers at Los Angeles last June 30. Southpaw Johnny Podres, who had an 11-4 record at the Coliseum last season, was the loser. An error, Essegian's double and Hal Smith's two-run homer wrapped it up for the Cards in a three-run sixth. Gil Hodges homered for the Dodgers in the ninth.

With Crippled Roy Campanella on hand, the Dodgers drew 61,552 for their home opener. That's a single night game record in the N.L.

PURKEY SHARP

Purkey, the right-hander who went to the Reds from Pittsburgh two winters ago, followed up his opening day decision over the Pirates with a seven-hit performance that included five strikeouts and a lone walk. George Witt, who had won seven straight and hadn't allowed the Reds a run in two previous decisions as a rookie was tagged for a solor homer by Vada Pinson and a two-run shot by Ed Bailey.

Mickey Vernon and Johnny O'Brien, an unlikely winning parlay for the Braves, were just that after the Phils had taken a 3-2 lead over Warren Spahn on Wally Post's two-run pinch triple in the ninth at Milwaukee. Vernon, acquired from Cleveland last weekend, singled home the tying run in the ninth. O'Brien, the former Phil, then provided the payoff in the 10th, joining Hank Aaron and Wes Covington in a string of consecutive singles off losing reliever Dick Farrell.

HERB SCORE SHOWS OLD FORM IN 8-1 WIN

Tribe Ace Mows Down Tigers In 5-Hitter; Chisox Win Fourth Straight In A.L. Race

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

From the looks of thing, this at last could be the year Herb Score comes back.

The young left-hander, shackled by injury since he was 20 as a sophomore with the Cleveland Indians in 1956, looked like the Score of old as he pulled off a quick turn-around in his second appearance of the season yesterday.

After a brief, frustrating relief attempt in the opener at Kansas City last week, Score flashed his fireball with steady control for an 8-1 victory over Detroit's winless Tigers, keeping the Indians on an unbeaten pace with the Chicago White Sox and New York Yankees in the American League race.

Score, 25, gave up only five hits, struck out nine and gave up only one walk—the leadoff man Eddie Yost, who has made a career of getting passes.

The White Sox, with southpaw Billy Pierce pitching the AL's first shutout of the season, made it four straight in their home opener with a 2-0 victory over Kansas City.

The Yankees (2-0) walloped the Orioles 13-3 at Baltimore. Boston won its first in a 7-3 decision over Washington on the Red Sox home opener.

WHIFF RECORD

Score, who now has 604 strikeouts in his 562 major league innings for an unprecedented 9.7 game average, retired 19 in a row from Rocky Bridges' first-inning single to Gail Harris' home run in the seventh. It was Score's fifth straight victory over the Tigers, going back to August, 1956, but his first for the Indians since April 23 last year.

Woody Held made it a breeze for the Indians in the first home game, driving in six runs with two homers, one a grand slam. The Tribe wrapped it up in a four-run fourth against Jim Bunning, who gave up homers by Minnie Minoso, Held and George Strickland while losing his fifth in a row to Cleveland.

DeMAESTRI HITS

Pierce, who missed the decision in the White Sox' opener, allowed Kansas City but six hits and didn't walk a man while gaining his 32nd shutout. A bases-loaded single by Luis Aparicio put it away for the Sox against the A's Ralph Terry. Joe DeMaestri of San Anselmo collected two hits for the losers.

The Yankees broke loose for nine runs in the third inning, with Bill Skowron, his bad back braced by a corset, hammering a grandslam homer off Arnie Portocarrero. Don Larsen was the winner, giving up six hits and all three Orioles runs, one on Al Pilarcik's fifth-inning homer, while testing his arm in a seven-inning stay.

A solo home run by Dick Gernert, a last-minute sub for the flu-stricken Vic Wertz, gave Boston the winning run in the sixth inning. Ike Delock made it seven in a row against the Senators, giving up six hits before quitting the cold weather. Camilo Pascual was the loser for the Nats, who got homers from Reno Bertoia and Norm Zauchin.

Veeck Up To Same Old Tricks In Windy City

CHICAGO (UPI) — Comiskey Park, respectable old home of the Chicago White Sox, may never be the same now that showman Bill Veeck has moved in for an unlimited engagement.

Veeck gave the fans a preview yesterday of some of the shennanigans they may expect as the season unfolds. The show included a pre-game pitching exhibition by Veeck, an aerial bomb cannonade, and free beer to the 19,303 customers who saw the White Sox beat the Kansas City Athletics, 2-0, for the club's fourth straight victory.

Veeck's brief mound performance came as a surprise to the fans and to Will Harridge, chairman of American League's directors, who was to have tossed the first pitch.

But a cluster of aerial bombs rocked the park and the announcer boomed: "We wish to announce another Chicago battery—Bill Veeck and Chuck Comiskey."

Veeck, coatless with open collar, took his spot on the mound and unloosed three southpaw pitches to Comiskey behind the plate. The first hit the dirt, the second was wide and the third soared over Comiskey's head.

Veeck said the gag signified that he and Comiskey "plan to work in harmony to help the Sox win the pennant."

The festivities started off with a presentation of the "world's longest loaf of bread" to Nellie Fox and Luis Aparicio in recognition of the home-run hitting prowess. Each clouted homers in the club's opening series at Detroit last week.

Maserati To Race In Indianapolis 500-Mile Classic

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The entry list for the 500-mile race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway May 30 stood at 47 today and the field included a Maserati from Italy.

Entries must be postmarked before midnight tonight and at least a dozen more are expected.

The Italian entry is the El Dorado Special, owned by Sterling Moss of England. In the 500-mile race last summer at Monza, Italy, it was running third when a broken steering gear forced it out late in the race.

Other entries announced today, with owners and drivers, included:

Travelon Trailer Special, Ernie Ruiz, Modesto, Calif.; Jack Turner, Seattle.

Corning Engineering Special, San Bernardino, Calif.; Bob Cortner, Redlands, Calif.

Cortner is a new driver and must pass driver's tests.

Entries received without drivers came from Joe Binter, San Diego, Calif., and C. O. Parther, Arcadia, Calif.

Northwestern U. Okays Bowl Pact

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Northwestern University's faculty athletic committee voted yesterday in favor of the Big Ten continuing the Rose Bowl football series.

Michigan, along with Northwestern, has voted in favor of continuing the series. Illinois, Minnesota and Ohio State have voted against the post season game.

The final decision will be reached next month when the league holds its spring meeting at Ann Arbor, Mich.

The 1960 game will be held under the present contract but after that the Big Ten will have to deal not only with the Tournament of Roses but the Big Four which is made up of California, Southern California, UCLA and Washington, remnants of the dying Pacific Coast Conference.

HANLEY'S REPORT

Giants Got Edge In Jones Trade

By JACK HANLEY
I-J Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO—One obvious fact was underscored during the opening series at St. Louis—the Giants got the edge in the trade of Bill White and Ray Jablonski for Sam Jones.

In 12 times at bat, White got one single, drove in one run, walked twice and struck out five times.

Jablonski, in two pinch-hit appearances, struck out and grounded out to short.

Jones, operating like a real pro on the mound, should have had his first shutout of the season instead of the 5-2 win with which he was credited.

He struck out seven, gave three walks and allowed only seven balls to be hit to the outfield. This caused one St. Louis cynic to remark:

"We'll only beat them by hitting the ball on the ground to the infield."

The remark, of course, was pointedly aimed at the shoddy fielding and nine Giant errors of which much, perhaps too much, has been written.

THE ERRORS and the Giant power-hitting were the highlights of the opening series. But completely overlooked were three sparkling defensive plays, one by Jimmy Davenport, another by Daryl Spencer and one by Sad Sam himself.

Before those plays are forgotten in the now swiftly moving schedule, let's record them for a properly balanced picture of what went on at St. Louis.

In the ninth inning of the final game when the Cards were trying desperately to get a rally started, Davenport raced from third base to make a one-handed catch of pinch-hitter Irv Noren's foul over the Cardinal dugout.

The third base Peanut leaned over the guard rail, far into the dugout to make the catch for the second out, while Redbird players scrambled every which way to avoid being beaned.

And in the fourth inning of the same game when the Cardinals looked like they were going to lengthen their 3-0 lead, Spencer came up with a rally-stopping play that even drew the plaudits of the partisan Busch Stadium fans.

Alex Grammas opened the fourth with an infield single and was advanced to second on Vinegar Bend Mizell's sacrifice bunt. He went to third when Don Blasingame grounded out to Spencer. With two out, Gino Cimoli tagged a hard grounder between first and second. Spencer ranged far to his left, making the stop in the outfield grass and got the throw off for the final out without taking a step.

Jones' splendid fielding play was in the ninth of the second game with two out and men on first and second. Ken Boyer hit a slow tap down the third base line. Sad Sam came off the mound like a 100-yard dash man, fielded the ball barehanded and while off-balance made an underhand throw to first to nip Boyer.

"A real pro, a real pro," said Bill Rigney later. "Sam was so far off-balance when he made that underhand throw, I feared it might go into right field. It is one of the toughest to make—across the length of the infield—but he did it perfectly."

NOW, WITH, the second three-game series at the midway point today, Bob Scheffing of the Chicago Cubs was asked anew whether he thought the Giants might go all the way this year in the pennant race.

"Sure they're contenders," he said. "But they still must beat the Braves."

Scheffing said the same thing during spring training in Arizona.

BOATS AND WIVES

There are two kinds of boatsmen. One type wants his wife to enjoy boating with him and the other hopes she won't.

If you are in the second category, I can dispose of your problem by telling you the quicketst and simplest way to accomplish your secret desire.

As soon as you acquire your boat, and even before you yourself know what it's all about, take your wife aboard and head out into San Pablo Bay. If you are lucky, a stiff wind will be blowing and there will be a few whitecaps and your boat will pitch and roll and make like it wants to throw you.

Your wife will turn pale and maybe a little green and timidly ask if it isn't "getting kind of rough." When she does that, you snarl something uncomplimentary. (I'm sure you'll think of the right words without any coaching from me.)

At this point, if all goes well, your wife should become slightly hysterical.

It may even sound to you like she is saying something about cursing the day she set foot on the boat and also the day she met you. The words will be difficult to make out, because between the sound of the wind and the roar of the propellor and engine, you won't hear so well.

But you can safely take my word for it: that's what she's saying.

YOU WILL LOOK around you and find that there are no other boats around. At this point you will begin to have serious doubts about getting back in one piece.

However, let me reassure you: Your boat is a lot tougher than you think. You will most likely get back.

By the time you have reached home port, your wife should be beyond the loud hysterical stage. She should now be whimpering softly and you've got it made! She will never set foot on the boat again!

But if you are of the first type, you will do everything in your power to make your wife feel safe and comfortable from the very outset.

If you do it properly, you will find that not only is she carrying her own weight, but a good deal of yours too.

ONCE SHE has conquered her first fears, believe me, it will take some weather ever to make her fearful again or doubt the seaworthiness of your boat.

So these are a few simple things to remember if you are a new skipper.

1. Venture out slowly.
2. Increase your distances gradually.
3. Never go out in bad weather.
4. Always turn back the moment your wife asks you to.

If you heed this advice, you will soon find that your wife is made of a lot sterner stuff than you ever dreamed. And one day, she will, to your utter amazement ask to go out into a whitecap covered bay "just to see how it is."

IT MAY SCARE the devil out of you, Skipper, but once your wife has made up her mind that the boat is safe and you are capable, you can just bet it won't frighten her.

From that point on, you'll have a happy ship and a staunch first mate.

You just can't imagine what a wonderful feeling it is, when you are hanging on to the wheel trying to keep on course and the waves are pounding over your house deck so that you seen nothing but water all around you, to hear your wife say in bored tones, "Can't you smoothen it out a little, you're disturbing my sleep!"

LIVE BETTER BY FAR—WITH ECONOMY

The economy-minded gent, who wants comfort and performance but at the same time would like to get more miles per gallon on cheaper gasoline, has a new U.S.-made car to look at this year. It's the Studebaker Lark, the two-door sedan version of which is shown here. Body and frame design eliminate squeaks and rattles, too, according to Rossi Garage of San Rafael, dealers in Marin for the Lark. Rossi's claim it's the inexpensive way to do what the initials in the corner of the picture mean: Live Better by Far With a Brand New Car.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Made Mistake? File Amended Return Fast

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

Have you filed your 1958 federal income tax return and now find that an error has been made?

Peter J. Wikel

If, after you have filed your tax return, you find that you have made a mistake, you should then immediately file an amended return. Claim the refund due because of the mistake, or pay the additional tax you owe.

Don't feet badly about making a mistake. Lots of people make mistakes.

If there is any additional tax due for 1958, and the amended return is filed and additional tax paid by April 15, 1959, no penalty will accrue.

If you find after you have filed your return that you would have done better to itemize your deductions rather than having filed under the standard deduction, you can still amend your return. If you filed on form 1040A or on short form 1040, or elected to take the standard deduction for 1956, 1957 or 1958, you can now go back and change your election. You can file an amended return and itemize your deductions.

If there is an additional amount to be refunded, the filing of an amended return will result in your receiving the additional refund.

You can file an amended return at any time, where additional tax is due, and pay the additional tax and interest and penalties.

You can file an amended return and claim any additional refunds at any time within two years from the time you paid the tax—whichever is the longer period.

The last year for which you can file an amended return claiming an additional refund is 1955. This return was due April 15, 1956. An amended return for 1955 would have to be filed by April 15, 1959.

Reed Pupils To Take TB Test

The Marin County Health Department has recommended that all Reed Union School District children, teachers and employees take a tuberculin skin test next week as a result of the diagnosis of tuberculosis of Leland Lincoln, the district's music teacher, 10 days ago.

The children's test will be given at the four district schools on Monday and Tuesday, Supt. Paul R. Stouffer said.

In case of a positive reaction, provision has been made for a chest X-ray at Marin General Hospital. Both services are available without charge, Stouffer said.

GENIUS WITH PIES — Ellen (Nellie) Keogh (left), an Irish spright with a Lemon Chiffon Pie that wins friends and genius for making Lemon Chiffon Pie. Since 1949, she has been housekeeper for Mrs. Harrison Leppo, who watches as Nellie works up one of the pies for which Antiques Show visitors clamor. Last year, she made 35 during the four-day show. (Independent-Journal photo)

SNACK BAR FAVORITE

'Please Save Me A Piece Of Nellie's Pie,' They Say

"Save me a piece of Nellie's pie" is sure to be the most frequently heard phrase in the snack bar of the Seventh Annual Antiques Show and Sale, opening in Mill Valley, April 23.

"Nellie" is Ellen Keogh, born almost three-quarters of a century ago in Dublin, Ireland, and still young in heart. Fifty years ago as a bride she left the Emerald Isle to settle in British Columbia where she lived for 42 years and brought up a family of six, three of whom reside in the bay area.

Since 1949, Nellie has kept house for the Harrison Leppos of Mill Valley and their friends are Nellie's friends as well. Her culinary skill is legendary and she lends her talent each year to add to the success of the Antiques Show.

Visitors and dealers at the show have learned to ask for Nellie's pies and they have achieved the status of a tradition. Last year she made a record total of 35 lemon chiffon pies for the four day show. The recipe is an easy one, she says, and she is willing to share it.

LEMON CHIFFON PIE

Pastry:

1½ cups flour
½ tsp salt
¾ cup shortening
3 tbsp cold water

Mix lightly and roll for one 9 inch pie shell. Prick with fork. Bake at 400 degrees until lightly brown and set aside to cool.

Filling:

½ cup lemon juice
grated rind 2 lemons
½ cup sugar
1 tbsp gelatin in ⅓ cup cold water
4 eggs
½ pint whipping cream
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 tbsps sugar

Over medium heat, in top of double boiler, mix lemon juice, rind, ¼ cup of the sugar and 4 egg yolks. Stir and cook until thick. Remove from heat. Add dissolved gelatin and stir. Let cool. Beat 4 egg whites with remaining ¼ cup sugar. Fold into lemon mixture. Fill pie shell. Allow to set (pie can be put in refrigerator to hasten setting.) Whip cream, adding the 2 tbsps sugar slowly, then vanilla. Top pie with whipped cream and serve. Serves 8.

Mecca for antiques collectors, the Seventh Annual Antiques Show and Sale will feature treasures from 29 west coast dealers from April 23 through April 26, at the American Legion Hall in Mill Valley. Hours will be noon to 10 p.m. daily and noon to 8 p.m. on Sunday. Admission is $1 for adults, 25 cents for children 6-16. Children under 6 will be admitted free.

Mrs. Philip T. Smith heads the Rector's Guild's committee arranging the show this year for the benefit of the building fund of the Church of Our Saviour in Mill Valley.

Bacon, Bacon . . . Which Kind How?

Canadian-Style bacon is made by curing and smoking the boneless loin of pork, according to meat expert Reba Staggs. This type of bacon makes a perfect partner for the "All-American" breakfast commonly known as bacon 'n eggs.

This type of bacon can be broiled, panbroiled or panfried.

Regular bacon, as you probably know, is the cured and smoked side of pork which is cut into slices. As in the Canadian-style bacon, this type can be prepared by broiling, panbroiling or panfrying.

OLD CHINESE SECRET

Chinese Almond Cookies Oh, So Easy To Make

In the strange and mystifying land of the Orient, fortunes are told not with the aid of the stars or the lines on the palm of one's hand . . . an ingenious method called "fortune cookies" is endorsed by the soothsayers.

These cookies are often served at dessert; that is unless the Chinese's famed cooky, the "Almond Cooky" is served.

More than likely if you have frequented an establishment specializing in Chinese cookery. Almond Cookies and a dish of sherbet or plain ice cream accompanied by a cup of tea is the recommended bill of fare.

Almond cookies are so easy to make that homemakers would probably enjoy preparing this treat at home.

CHINESE ALMOND COOKIES

2½ cups sifted enriched flour
½ teaspoon salt
¾ teaspoon baking powder
1 cup lard
1½ cups sugar
1 egg
1 tablespoon water
1 teaspoon almond extract
½ cup finely chopped coconut
¼ cup blanched almonds

Sift together flour, salt and baking powder. Cream lard and sugar. Beat in egg, water and almond extract. Add sifted ingredients and coconut to creamed mixture. (It may be necessary to knead the dough a few times to mix thoroughly.)

Shape into balls, using a rounded teaspoon of dough for each. Place on a cooky sheet. Flatten, with bottom a glass, to ⅜ inch thickness.

Top with almond half. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for 12 to 15 minutes. Yield: 4 dozen cookies.

IN A SPANISH MOOD — Castilian cooking has nuances many have never dreamed of. Even hash (called Picadillo) is far afield of our usual notions. Then there is Castilian salad and fruit (black figs) with Cinnamon Cream. For hot Spanish evenings, cold drinks.

Recapture Romance Of Spain With Dish Of Picadillo (Hash)

Even if there is not an eyelash of adventure in you—sometime in your life you have brushed against the romance of Spain . . . that country of mountain top castles and flame-footed dancers. But few things about Spain are more romantic than her cuisine . . . or the names Spain lends her dishes. Here's a party or family menu as gay as a giggle! We might call it Spanish Hash but the Spanish call it Picadillo . . . and you must try it to know how to satisfy your tongue with a single mouthful of taste delight. Then there is Castilian salad and fruit with cinnamon cream—and to complement it all, ice cold soft drinks wrapped up for the occasion with foil, champagne style. Here's a menu that takes you on a romantic Cook's Cruise right in your own hacienda. Don't miss this boat!

PICADILLO

1 clove garlic, diced
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon chili powder, approx.
1 tablespoon olive oil
1 medium onion, chopped
1 lb. pork shoulder, ground
1 cup canned tomatoes, preferably Italian style, drained
1 12-oz. box frozen corn, thawed and drained

Crush garlic with salt and chili powder. Place oil in a large skillet and add garlic mixture. Heat oil, using a medium high flame, add onions and brown slightly. Add meat and stir to brown and crumble it. Add tomatoes, cover skillet, reduce flame and simmer about 20 minutes or until pork is completely cooked. Add corn and cook until corn heats. Season to taste, adding enough chili powder for preferred "heat." Serve with rice. Makes 4 servings.

CASTILIAN SALAD

2 Spanish onions
2 navel oranges
1 head chicory
1 can black olives
Olive oil
Vinegar
Slice peeled Spanish onions and peeled navel oranges thin. Arrange on a bed of chicory and garnish with pitted olive strips. Pass olive oil and vinegar and let each guest dress his salad to taste, or pre-mix dressing and pass in a pitcher, using 2 parts oil to 1 part vinegar.

FRUIT WITH CINNAMON CREAM

1 cup dried figs, preferably black
1½ cups orange juice, approx.
3 bananas, sliced
1 cup heavy cream
2 tablespoons confectioners sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon

Place figs in saucepan. Add enough orange juice to cover, and bring to boil. Remove from flame, cool, and add bananas. Allow to marinate about 1 hour. Whip cream stiff and add confectioners sugar and cinnamon to taste. Make a ring of banana slices, center with figs and top with cinnamon cream. Makes 4 servings.

NOT ALL CHILE

Mexican Secrets Via Blind Elena

By AMBER EUSTUS

Watching Elena Zelayeta cook is half fun, half miracle. She most likely whiffs a spice bottle before taking some of its contents. She minces an onion as fine as anyone, holding it in her hand as she scrapes it with a knife.

She tells jokes as she works, jokes mostly about herself and her difficulties in the kitchen. For this great authority on Mexican cooking has overcome her blindness with a good-hearted aplomb.

She also has overcome a common opinion of Mexican cooking as being all tomales and tortillas, You have but to open her latest cookbook, "Elena's Secrets of Mexican Cooking" (Prentice-Hall, $3.95) to start your salivary glands working overtime.

Hostesses who hang their reputations on the hors d'oevure tray will welcome her imaginative dips and crunchy bits. Some have the traditional Mexican "fire" in their seasoning, and others rely on cheese and pimiento. There is even a recipe based on biscuit mix which Elena hastens to assure the reader is quite common South-of-the Border.

Here a chapter on soups includes several recipes for "sopa seca" (or casserole).

Undoubtedly the most exotic is her recipe for "Mole de Guajalote," or Mole Sauce for Turkey, a traditional dish for all sorts of fiestas, including birthdays and anniversaries. Bitter chocolate is only one of the most unusual ingredients.

By the way, Elena keeps neophyte cooks from "flying blind" with her delightful prefaces to each recipe. For instance, ". . . Remember, though, that chile piquin is hotter than the well known hinges, so take it easy when you add it!"

It wouldn't be fair to talk about Elena's cooking without sharing a few crumbs, at least. Included are her comments.

BISCUITS DE FIESTA

These may not sound Mexican, but I assure you that they are. You'd be surprised at the number of South-of-the-Border cooks who use our American mixes, but they always add their own special touches. These freeze nicely.

For appetizers split tiny biscuits while hot and spread with cheese or deviled ham. Or make a depression in the center of each biscuit and fill with Chile Butter, made by blending ¼ cup soft butter and ½ teaspoon chile powder.

2 tablespoons butter
2 cups biscuit mix
⅔ cup milk
2 tablespoons finely-chopped onion
2 tablespoons finely-chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons finely-chopped pimiento

Cut butter into biscuit mix. Add all remaining ingredients and mix to moderately stiff dough. Roll out on lightly-floured board and cut with tiny biscuit cutter for appetizer biscuits (about 1-inch in diameter) or use 2-inch cutter for larger biscuits. Bake in a 450° oven until lightly browned, about 8 or 10 minutes. Serve as appetizers or to accompany soup or salad. Makes 3 dozen tiny or 1½ dozen larger biscuits.

HUEVOS REVUELTOS A LA MEXICANA
(Mexican Scrambled Eggs)

Mexicans do interesting things with eggs, just as their former conquerors, the Spanish, do. Hot or toasted tortillas are especially good with them, and that the Mexicans learned from the Aztecs.

1 small tomato
4 eggs
1 tablespoon milk
1 tablespoon minced green pepper
1 tablespoon minced parsley
1 small green onion, finely chopped
Salt and pepper.

Peel tomato, remove seeds and cut in very small cubes. Beat eggs, add milk and all other ingredients. Scramble in butter the usual way. Serves 2.

MOLE DE GUAJOLOTE

This recipe, created by Helen Evans Brown, is used by courtesy of McCall's magazine. I wish to thank them.

The classic Mexican method of making a mole consists of laborious hours of scraping pulp from several different kinds of chiles, and grinding nuts and seeds and chocolate in a mortar. The recipe below is a very modern version which nonetheless has the authentic Mexican flavor.

1 small turkey (about 12 pounds)
2 chopped unions
3 large cloves garlic, minced
4 tablespoons lard or turkey fat
4 squares bitter chocolate
1 cup peanut butter
6 cups turkey stock
4 tablespoons toasted sesame seeds
2 teaspoons ground cumin
¾ cup chile powder
4 dried tortillas, or ¼ cup corn meal
2½ tablespoons sugar
¼ teaspoon anise
salt to taste

Have turkey cut in pieces, cover with water, and simmer until just tender, adding salt to taste. In the meantime, cook the chopped onion and garlic in the shortening until wilted, and put in a blender along with the chocolate, cut in pieces, 1 cup of the stock, and the remaining ingredients. (Toast sesame seeds in a heavy dry skillet, stirring so that they won't burn. Break tortillas in pieces; if not dry, put them in a slow oven until hard). Blend ingredients until smooth, adding remaining stock and more salt if necessary; then pour over the drained turkey pieces. If you have no blender, grind the dry ingredients several times, using the finest knife, then mix with the stock. Heat thoroughly before serving. (This improves if made the day before serving). Serves 12.

World's Driest

Wine experts are generally agreed that the world's driest wine is a Spanish sherry of the fino type that matures in a seacoast town of the Jerez district named Sanulcar de Barrameda. It is said the ocean breezes give the wine a tonic freshness and dryness unmatched anywhere else on earth.

Special For Spring, A Three-Fruit Cup

Ingredients: 1 can (1 pound and 4 ounces) pineapple tidbits in extra heavy syrup, 1 pint strawberries, 1 large seedless grapefruit.

Method: Turn pineapple tidbits and their syrup into a container. Wash strawberries in cold water, drain well and hull; if small, cut in half; if large, cut in quarters; add to pineapple. Pare grapefruit so no white membrane remains; cut sections away from dividing membranes; halves sections and add to other fruit. (Squeeze any juice from grapefruit membranes into fruit.) Mix; cover; chill. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Hawaiian music and entertainment during the cocktail and dinner hours and dancing to the music of an orchestra filled the remainder of the evening.

Camp Fire's National Director Says Program Is Adjustable

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

"The basic part of the Camp Fire program has not changed. It was made flexible so it adjusts to the times," stated Miss Martha Allen, national director and executive vice president, at the press conference Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Edward Zeller in Kent Woodlands. As an example, Miss Allen said the science program was inaugurated in 1946. "We were ahead of the times."

Miss Allen, who came from headquarters in New York, for a regional conference, admitted that she had never been a Camp Fire Girl but said that when she was little she would put up a make-believe tent and play she was one.

Attractive and soft spoken, the national officer has a bit of the real drawl of her fellow Mississippians but her heart lies in Vermont where she has her home. A graduate of Mississippi State College for Women, she taught school for a year then went to Columbia University where she received the master's degree in Latin. She laughed as she said: "That has been no help to me in Camp Fire." Its terminology is Indian.

Miss Allen taught in All Saints College in Vicksburg and in 1941 became assistant to Camp Fire's national president. She said she is the first woman to serve as a national director.

As to the beginning of Camp Fire, Miss Allen said that Dr. Luther Halsey Gulick started the movement in 1910 at his Camp Sebago-Wohelo in Maine and prime movers in the organization were the late Ernest Thompson Seton, a naturalist and authority on Indian lore, and John Collier, who was commissioner of Indian affairs. Indian culture was stressed, with the girls taught how to create symbols and make ceremonial robes. "They (the founders) wanted to avoid anything military," Miss Allen said, "so the girls' outfits are called costumes, not uniforms, and the organization is divided into Groups, not troops." She continued, "The name Camp Fire is a little erroneous as it is the home and family life on which the emphasis is placed."

The national director spoke of the friendship of the Camp Fire Girls with girls in other lands and of last year's project, "Meet The People," in which the Camp Fire groups prepared books with pictures showing their homes, families, schools and communities, which were sent to girls in foreign lands. She said that the Marin girls had done splendid work.

Miss Allen also told of incidents where Camp Fire has helped girls who are underprivileged, giving them a sense of belonging and feeling of equality.

Asked what problems confront the organization, Miss Allen answered: "There are two, The first is leadership. So many women are employed, it is difficult to get leaders. The other problem is money." She explained that while united fund raising drives give money for Camp Fire, it is seldom sufficient, so money raising projects have to be carried on at the local level.

Following the conference, Miss Allen was honored at a tea attended by Camp Fire Council members and other leaders in the organization.

Mrs. Meadowcroft Presented P-TA Life Membership

Mrs. Alan Meadowcroft, former Drake Parent Teacher president, was awarded the 1959 Life Membership in the PTA, at the recent meeting entitled "80 Minutes Around The World", which was highlighted by American Field Service foreign exchange students.

Mrs. Andrew Klapak in presenting the award reviewed Mrs. Meadowcroft's record of devotion in the interests of children. She has been a Bluebird and Campfire Girl Leader. Not only has Mrs. Meadowcroft been a teacher of long standing in the Presbyterian Sunday School, but she has always devoted a great share of her time to working with church youth groups. Her Parent Teacher work dates back more than 15 years.

Michael Lopez introduced each student, and Glen Reznor, director of the chorus, also introduced each national anthem.

Among those participating were the following: Senorita Martina Jiminiz from Chili; Ritva Hannonen from Finland; Hauchang Dezfulian from Iran, who played two solos on a 20 stringed instrument; Kimiko Sogabe of Japan who performed a delicate Japanese dance, singing her accompaniment, and William Raynor of New Zealand, the first foreign exchange student to qualify for the California Scholarship Federation, who dressed in a Maari bushman's outfit performed an exciting tribal dance.

Two Drake students, Hale Prather and Fred Corson, rounded out the program with their exciting experiences from their adventures overseas last summer.

Membership Meeting Planned in Tiburon

The Tiburon Unit of the Reed District Parent-Teacher Club will hold a membership meeting on Friday at 3 p.m. at the Tiburon School.

Mrs. Sam Mercer will show pictures of her recent trip around the world. Participation in the annual carnival on May 29, 30 will be discussed.

Baby sitting will be provided.

Sandra Seibert Weds Creighton D. Hughes

White chrysanthemums and Easter lilies decorated St. Hilary's Church in Tiburon recently when Creighton Darryl Hughes of San Anselmo claimed as his bride Sandra Lee Seibert of Tiburon.

Sandra's dress of Chantilly lace was ballerina length with short sleeves, fitted bodice and a full skirt. A shoulder length veil fell from a beaded coronet trimmed with orange blossoms and pearl clusters. She carried a white orchid with white carnations.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis L. Seibert, was given in marriage by her father. Officiating at the 11 a.m. double ring ceremony was the Rev. James Forristal.

Maid of honor was Miss Maureen Callagy of San Rafael whose ballerina length dress was orchid with a fitted bodice and full skirt and a large satin bow at the waistline. On her head was an orchid coronet with a tiny veil. She carried pink carnations.

Don Camiccia of Sleepy Hollow was best man, and ushers were Ralph Camiccia and Chris Hughes, brother of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Seibert wore a bone color sheath and jacket with a matching hat. Her accessories were electric blue and her flowers pale green cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Gordon G. Hughes, mother of the groom, chose an aqua sheath with a jacket in satin tip jersey trimmed with aqua satin. She wore a matching flowered hat and her accessories were bone color. Her flowers were also pale green cymbidium orchids.

A champagne luncheon for members of the family and immediate friends at the Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito followed the ceremony. Pink carnations, sweetheart roses and lilacs decorted the tables and the double tiered wedding cake was topped by bridal figurines encircled with lilies of the valley.

For her wedding trip the new Mrs. Hughes changed to a cocoa tone wool suit with brown accessories. She had a white orchid corsage. The young couple will travel to Southern California and then be at home to their friends at 1695 Filbert street, in San Francisco.

Sandra attended Tamalpais High School and College of Marin. She has one brother, Richard, who is in the Army at Fort Ord. Her grandparents are Mrs. Margaret Selzer of San Rafael and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hughes of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, who coincidentally have the same name as the groom's mother and father.

Creighton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hughes of San Anselmo and attended Sir Francis Drake High School and College of Marin. He has one brother, and his grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James Creighton of Los Altos. He is employed at McAlister Buick, Inc. in San Francisco.

"A Night in Hawaii" will be the theme of the monthly party of the Mill Valley Folk Dancers to be held tomorrow evening at the Outdoor Art Club.

Decorations and refreshments will have a Hawaiian motif. Mrs. Vin Davison is in charge of decorations, and Mrs. Leo Bodian is in charge of refreshments.

Along with the familiar folk and square dances, special attention is being given to island music and dances, with Mickey McGowan directing the program. All folks dancers are invited. Hostesses for the evening along with Mrs. Davison and Mrs. Bodian will be Mrs. Charles A. Hardy and Mrs. Vincent Orlando.

On the evening of May 21 the Mill Valley Folk Dancers will hold their annual "Big Party," and plans are now in progress to make this another of its traditionally fine affairs. According to Edgar Hensley, program chairman, the party will be held at the Outdoor Art Clubhouse, and it is anticipated that folk dancers from the entire Bay Area will attend.

On Sunday, May 31, the Club will hold its first outdoor get-together at the Clair De Lune Pavilion at the Art and Garden center in Ross. There will be a steak barbecue and an afternoon of dancing. It will be open to folk dancers generally, but reservations will be required. Further information will be available at a later date.

MARIN-DELLicious MILK

FUN WITH FOOD AND HELPFUL HINTS

Give tonight's dinner a party air. On each salad plate place a thick slice of tomato; on it an artichoke heart, and on the artichoke, a mound of tuna salad made of WHITE STAR tuna—all choice tuna filet meat, and unexcelled for taste. Place pimiento strips on the tuna and pass a big bowl of mayonnaise at the table. The family will love you more than ever!

Put flavor into Janie's lunch-box and she won't swap her sandwiches for a sour pickle and a lollipop. This spread has good taste and good food values: 1 cup grated Swiss cheese, ½ cup ground ham, 1 Tb. horseradish, 1 Tb. FRENCH'S Prepared Mustard, 1 Tb. mayonnaise. Mix well, spread on rye bread. FRENCH'S Prepared Mustard is tangy but never too hot for small tongues.

Turning leftovers into saved-overs which won't wither away in a refrigerator, isn't so hard. That bit of steak can be stuffing for baked peppers or a beef sandwich for your lunch. Be sure to wrap it in WAXTEX, the heavy paper which is waxed clear through; WAXTEX keeps saved foods fresh, with all the moisture and flavor intact. A big roll costs little, lasts a long, long time.

Salad days are here—all the little radishes and green onions, the firm red tomatoes, are casting longing glances at the curly lettuce heads! If they meet in your salad bowl, let PLANTERS Peanut Oil marry their delectable flavors; you'll find it makes beautiful dressing. (European chefs use peanut oil because it has no taste of its own, but enriches the flavor of other foods.)

Is there a little beefeater in the house? The GERBER people have created a new dish for him—STRAINED BEEF and EGG NOODLES with VEGETABLES, flavorsome yet fine of texture, as mothers who have tested it agree. It's another GERBER main dish, and is high in Vitamin A, with additional niacin, riboflavin and iron, to make babies grow.

Sauce-collecting is a hobby you can share. (Who ever saw a man smack his lips over a stamp album?) Here's a new one for your collection, just right with baked ham. Mix ¾ cup brown sugar, 3 Tb. ARGO Cornstarch and 1½ cups liquid from ham. Add ½ cup raisins, ¼ cup vinegar, 1 sliced lemon and 1 Tb. butter. Cook in double-boiler until thick. Serve very hot.

These are busy days for youngsters, with lots of physical activity. It's a good time to introduce them to DIAL Soap—so gentle on young skins and so reliable a shield against perspiration odor. A shower with DIAL is a lesson in good grooming, and the pretty colors make baths almost fun! Added attraction: let each child choose his own favorite shade.

What tastes as divine as freshly-baked bread, just out of the oven? Next-best are rolls heated and buttered just before serving. You can restore fresh-baked goodness and fragrance when you heat bread or rolls in REYNOLDS WRAP Aluminum Foil. Wrap tightly and heat in moderate oven for 15 minutes or longer. They'll wait; they can't burn or dry out in REYNOLDS WRAP!

See you next week!

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

All San Rafael Candidates Conducted 'Clean' Campaigns

All participants in the campaigns preceding Monday's elections in San Rafael certainly deserve a pat-on-the-back for their "clean" campaigning.

Unlike some recent San Rafael political battles we can recall, this one was fought without bitter personality clashes.

With one exception, incumbent candidates were returned to office. But opposition strength was considerable and this we must regard as a healthy sign because public debate is absolutely essential to the effective operation of our form of representative self-government.

For their "clean" campaigns and for their contribution to effective government through reasonable and thoughtful debate, we congratulate both winners and losers in Monday's elections.

Police Chief Frank Kelly is the second elective law enforcement officer to suffer defeat at the polls in Marin within the past few months. (Sheriff David Menary went down to defeat in last summer's county elections.)

This is a little difficult to account for. Neither Kelly nor Menary condoned gambling, bookmaking, vice or other unsavory activities usually associated with a so-called "open town." Consequently, they were not under fire on this point. Both had long, enviable records in law enforcement work. But both were defeated by younger, more energetic campaigners.

Police Chief-elect Charlie Chiesa will make a fine chief for San Rafael, we predict. He will give his personal attention to police department and law enforcement affairs, round the clock seven days a week. He will be fair and forceful. We expect he will keep San Rafael a "clean" town.

To outgoing Chief Kelly we say "well done" and "good luck" in future endeavors.

To incoming Chief Chiesa we say "congratulations" and "best wishes for success" in your new position.

Good News From Unexpected Source

The announcement last week in Washington of the seven men who were selected as candidates for the first flight into space (if the Russians don't beat us), was the best news for the middle-aged since Ezio Pinza won the girl in South Pacific.

Those of us who are balding or greying can find inspiration in the fact that here was an important mission requiring physical stamina and endurance that did not go to fuzzy-cheeked youth.

After years of reading about 30-year-old boxers and ball players who had lost their stuff because of slowed reflexes, it was refreshing to see the average age of the space candidates was about 35. One will be 40 in two years when we supposedly will be ready to send a man aloft.

If we aging males strut a bit, dear ladies, please forgive us. We have just discovered we are the elite.

Today Is That Day

This is T-Day, the deadline for those state and federal income tax returns. If you haven't turned yours in yet, better get them in by midnight.

Today also is AF-Day. That's African Freedom Day, being observed by native throughout the Dark Continent on the anniversiary of the first meeting of independent African states in Ghana last year.

Wonder if anyone has told them about income taxes?

Resent Teeners? Maybe You Don't Want To Recall Own Adolescence

NEW YORK (AP) — Do you resent teen-agers because they are uncomfortably like yourself?

Do you turn your back on all adolescents and their problems because you don't want to be reminded of the hidden horrors of your own growing-up time?

John Farris believes you probably do. Farris, one of the literary surprises of the 1959 season, is the young author of a new and controversial novel of high school life, "Harrison High," that is being alternately bombed and praised for its realism.

"Adolescence is the most wounding period of life for many," said Farris.

"What many an adult resents is to be reminded that kids of 17 have the same thoughts, feelings and even experiences that he does.

"At 17, a kid can be astonishingly mature in some ways almost infantile in others. He is as changeable and unpredictable as the weather.

"Grownups forget what they really were like in high school. When they look back, they select only the memories they want, and reject the others. It makes them uncomfortable to be reminded what they really were like."

That is why Farris, now a graduate student in English literature at the University of Missouri, wrote his own novel of high school life as he felt it really was.

"Most older writers can't give an accurate picture because they don't know the language of kids that age, and have forgotten their feelings," he said.

"Even now at 22, if I started another high school novel, I could not do as well. It would be a mess. You lose touch fast."

THE SLENDER young author, who is hazel-eyed and has "brush-cut" hair, isn't dazzled by the acclaim that has greeted his first serious work.

"I'm not greedy about success," he said. "If it comes, fine — if not, I won't sweat it. I just want enough money to keep writing."

Even for a period when literary precocity is fairly commonplace, Farris is unusual. He started writing at the age of 14, now turns out about 2,500 words a day. He never has taken a formal writing course, believes an author can learn his craft only at the typewriter.

HE ALREADY is hard at work on his second novel, which deals with a promising young medical student "who suddenly just folds up.

"I guess, like this character, I'm kind of confused," said John, who is as sincere as a growing tree. "I know where I want to go myself. But I look around and see so many young people who are uncertain, unsure of themselves, and unhappy. I have a burning desire to find out why."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Must Have Job To Get In Hospital

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In the April 8 I-J there was an article about a San Anselmo man who shot himself. I quote verbatim from that story:

"Williams was first taken by ambulance to Marin General Hospital at 11:45 a.m., but when the attending physician learned that he was unemployed, the physician ordered that he be taken to San Rafael General Hospital as a county welfare case, police said. He was admitted to San Rafael General at 12:10 p.m."

Is this our hospital? Is this the hospital that we are paying for? Will this hospital only care for Marin County residents who are employed? It means that you can pay taxes for years, as no doubt Mr. Williams did, to help pay for the hospital, but should you become unemployed and ill, you can not go to the hospital you helped pay for. Is this right?

Of course I blame the attending physician just as much. How could he, out of just plain humanity if nothing else, not help that man? In fact his oath tells him he should have. The physician could not tell that the 25 minute delay would be safe. Was he too afraid he might not get paid from the unemployed man?

LYMAN VAN ANDA
Mill Valley

(NOTE: As Reader Van Anda's letter indicates, the hospital had no say in whether to admit the man, it was a decision of the physician. He apparently found the delay would not adversely affect the victim's chances of recovery and ordered the change in hospitals in compliance with a county Board of Supervisors decision regarding welfare cases.)

Withdraws From Taxpayers Assn.

Independent-Journal:

I have written the Marin County Taxpayer's Association the following letter:

"I hereby withdraw from the Taxpayer's Association. Your policy of suing the county for refund on taxes already paid is a splendid example of fiscal incest calculated to be an expense and burden to the county and thus a negation of the true purpose of your association."

YOUR PROPERTY TAX—VI

How Can Taxpayer Protest Assessment?

(NOTE: One of a series explaining Marin County property tax processes.)

By
BERT W. BROEMMEL
Marin County Assessor

What can a property owner do if he believes his assessment is too high?

First, he is free to call at the assessor's office and discuss the matter. Often an explanation by an appraisal deputy will convince him that he is being treated fairly. If the discussion develops additional information, or if the deputy concludes there is doubt as to the proper value, he reports it for review at the property site.

If the review can be made prior to June, and a revised value results, it will be applied to the assessment roll for the tax year beginning in July.

THE LAW PROVIDES that the assessor must deliver the assessment roll to the clerk of the Board of Supervisors on or before the first Monday in July. He cannot himself change values on the roll after delivery.

The Board of Supervisors sits as a Board of Equalization beginning the first Monday in July. Property owners are given the opportunity at that time to ascertain the assessments against their properties for the new tax year. If a property owner believes his assessment should be reduced, he files with the clerk of the board a verified written application therefore, showing the facts claimed to require the reduction.

This application must be filed promptly, since the board may receive them only during the normal hearing period, which runs from the first Monday to the third Monday in July, unless concluded earlier.

APPLICANTS OR THEIR agents must appear at the hearing and answer questions pertinent to the inquiry. The function of this equalization board is to see that all properties in the county are assessed at a constant level of opinion as to market value and have their proper relationship to each other. The decision of the board is final unless an applicant alleges that the board acted arbitrarily, in complete disregard of the facts, for which there is remedy in the courts.

Often the words "high assessments" and "high taxes" are used interchangeably. This is erroneous and misleading. An assessment is too high when it is higher than the assessments for similar properties. The owner is then paying more than his share of taxes.

Both the assessor and the County Board of Equalization want to rectify such situations.

HIGH TAXES are another matter. Assessments can be in proper relationship, yet government costs will result in taxes which the property owner may consider "high."

The remedy for those who believe taxes to be too high is to make their views known to the county, city, school, sanitation and other districts serving them. Each of the governing boards levying taxes hold public hearings on their budgets.

THE MEMBERS of these governing boards, are elected representatives of the people they serve and their decisions usually reflect the wishes of the majority of their constituents.

It can thus be inferred that taxes are the cost of the services that the people ask their governments to provide.

Assessments, on the other hand, are the means by which the taxes are distributed among the property owners in proportion to the value of their property.

The boy was thunderstruck by what he saw and asked countless questions, not a single one of which his father could answer. Finally, the boy said, "Paw, I'm sorry if I'm so dumb. Hope you don't mind me asking all these fool questions."

"Go right ahead, son," said his father heartily. "That's the only way you'll ever learn things!"

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By ROSS W. ASHLEY

If You're Looking For Fellow To Fight With, Stay Away From Vito

AS REPORTED elsewhere in the I-J last week, Vito Bertoldo of Kentfield has opened "Vito's Nursery" on Highway 101, just south of the Black Point Cutoff.

Our old friend, Bill White, formerly of the I-J staff and now Marin operator of the General Spray Service, will have an office at Vito's, so we will no doubt be dropping by there occasionally.

When we do, if we get the urge to buy some of Vito's merchandise, we will do so without quibbling over the price.

THIS BERTOLDO is not a guy to start an argument with as the late A. Hitler and associates learned, the hard way a few years back.

Adolf's boys, then engaged in an argument of major proportions with the U. S. Army, among others, made the error of starting something with Vito on Jan. 9, 1945, at a place called Hatten, France.

You would undoubtedly think we were exaggerating if we tried to give you a play-by-play account of what happened in our words, so we will quote from the official record:

"Bertoldo fought with extreme gallantry while guarding two command posts against the assault of powerful infantry and armored forces which had overrun the battalion's main line of resistance.

"On the close approach of enemy soldiers, he left the protection of the building he defended, and set up his gun in the street, there to remain for almost 12 hours driving back attacks while in full view of his adversaries and completely exposed to 88-mm., machine gun and small arms fire.

"HE MOVED BACK inside the command post, strapped his machine gun to a table and covered the main approach to the building by firing through a window, remaining steadfast even in the face of 88-mm fire from tanks only 75 yards away. One shell blasted him across the room, but he returned to his weapon.

"When two enemy personnel carriers led by a tank moved toward his posttion, he calmly waited for the troops to dismount and then, with the tank firing directly at him, leaned out the window and mowed down the entire group of more than 20 Germans.

"Some time later, removal of the command post was ordered. Sgt. Bertoldo voluntarily remained behind, covering the withdrawal of his comrades and maintaining his stand all night. In the morning he carried his machine gun to an adjacent building . . . and began a day-long defense of that position.

"HE BROKE UP a heavy attack launched by a self-propelled 88-mm. gun covered by a tank and about 15 infantrymen. Soon afterward another 88-mm. weapon moved up to within a few feet of his position and, placing its muzzle almost inside the building, fired into the room, knocking him down. . . .

"Disregarding a devastating barrage, he remained at his post and hurled . . . grenades into advancing enemy troops until they broke and retreated. A tank less than 50 yards away fired at his stronghold, destroyed the machine gun and blew him across the room again. He once more returned to the bitter fight and with a rifle single-handedly covered the withdrawal of his fellow soldiers when the post was finally abandoned."

There is actually more to it, but we've got to stop for space.

The quoted material is from Bertoldo's citation which accompanied the congressional Medal of Honor awarded to him after the epic stand at Hatten.

WALTER LIPPMANN

Our Problem Is Whether To Face Or Ignore Fact Germany Is Split

(NOTE: Walter Lippmann has just returned from Europe where he has had a first hand look at the Berlin situation.)

The essential argument for Dr. Adenauer's doctrine of non-recognition does not come from any passionate interest of his in the reunification of Germany.

Dr. Adenauer knows that reunification is not practical politics and it is no secret that as an old Rhinelander his heart does not bleed for a close political union with the Prussians and the Saxons of the East.

His doctrine of not recognizing the East German state is a defense against German nationalism which, if it goes on a rampage for German unity, may upset the whole apple-cart — NATO, the Common Market, the entente with France, and the alignment of Western Germany with the Western society against the barbarians of the East.

IN THE LAST analysis, we are asked to follow Dr. Adenauer's doctrine of the non-recognition of the fact of the two Germanys in order to avoid the defeat of his party in the 1961 German elections.

Although I do not agree with it, it is, I admit, an impressive case. But the risks of the Adenauer policy are greater than those of the Mac millan policy. The British are, I believe, essentially right in wishing to recognize the facts of life as they are, and to regulate them by a negotiated agreement.

The case for recognizing that there are two Germanys and that there is, therefore, a special situation in Berlin is this:

It is our best chance to arrange for an orderly evolution in Germany.

IF WE COULD get an international charter for Berlin, we could greatly reduce the risks of dangerous incidents caused by misunderstanding, by the recklessness or carelessness of subordinate officers and officials, or by mischievous provocation. If we could bring the two German states into a legal relationship with each other, there would be a chance that the movement towards German unity would be open and visible rather than clandestine and conspiratorial.

In weighing the two views — which we have called roughly the German and the British — we must bear in mind that we are not chosing between a divided Germany and a reunited Germany.

The question is whether to recognize this situation or to drift along without recognizing it.

IF WE DRIFT along, accepting the fact of the partition but refusing to recognize it, hoping to stand pat against the evolution of things, we can probably manage for a while. When the Soviet Union or the East German government grunts, we can growl, and since neither of us wants war or dares to have a war, we may be able to keep things as they are for a little time to come — perhaps until all of us have had our elections.

But we need not try to be proud of ourselves if this is what we do.

WHAT WE SHALL have done is to buy a temporary standstill for ourselves at the risk that at some later date there will be an explosion of the pent-up popular feelings which we have frustrated.

We shall be better off and we shall feel better about it all if we grasp the realities and do not evade them.

Then we can say to ourselves, "Out of this nettle, danger, we pluck the flower, safety."

SHE DIDN'T LIKE IT DOWN THERE

DENVER (AP)—When Robert Millard, 39, sawed off the legs of his wife's new dining room table, she says she at first tried to grin and bear it.

"We sat on pillows to eat our meals," Mrs. Millard, 38, told Dist. Judge Neil Horan. "We would lie on the floor to talk and we had to lean against the wall to read."

Said Mrs. Millard of her husband: "He just wanted to be different."

Her divorce was granted.

The board will meet at 8 p.m., May 11, at the West Marin School to consider the 1959-60 budget. Stratton said that if Feliciano has completed plans before then, the board may hold a special meeting.

In other matters the board:

1. Hired Mrs. Anna Bruckman of Pt. Reyes Station to teach either third or fourth grade at the Inverness School starting next September, at an annual salary of $5,625.
2. Hired Thomas E. Burke of Los Angeles to teach seventh grade at West Marin School at an annual salary of $4,750.
3. Voted to increase the salaries of three persons in Custodial or secretarial work by 5 per cent.
4. Otherwise decided to retain the current salary schedule.
5. Decided to continue searching for an eighth grade teacher.

Baker Estate Distributed To Survivors

The $836,000 estate of the late John Earl Baker of Mill Valley, known as the "Hoover of China," was distributed this week to his widow and his three children.

Under a decree of distribution approved by Marin Superior Court Judge Jordan L. Martinelli, Mrs. Willie Smith Baker gets the family home at 516 Throckmorton avenue and all household effects and personal belongings, plus a $150,000 triust fund.

John Barton O'Brien, attorney for the executors of the estate, said that about $450,000 of the estate went to gift and inheritance taxes. The balance went to the children, about $100,000 each to a son and two daughters.

The children are John Earl Baker Jr. of Sebastopol, Mrs. Frances Baker Ross of Silver Spring, Md., and Mrs. Barbara Baker Louden of Center Square, Pa.

Dr. Baker died at his home in Mill Valley on July 27, 1957, at the age of 76. He was Far Eastern expert and onetime economic adviser to the Chinese Nationalist Government.

After World War I, while Herbert Hoover was helping Europe's hungry millions, Dr. Baker became known for his work in Chinese famine relief.

What About 'Social Promotions' For Boy Already Flunked Once?

"My son Bill has repeated the first grade," a father writes. He's finishing the second grade now. He's still behind. The teacher wants to give him a social promotion into third grade come June. I've always opposed social promotions. They make school standards a joke. But I can see that Bill shouldn't stay back again. What should we do?"

I don't like social promotions either. But in many schools they are inevitable. The alternative is to keep boys like Bill back so far that they're misfits. They become hazards to themselves and their classmates. Moving them along is the lesser of two evils.

Will you do several things, quickly. Ask at school about Bill's intelligence. Does his teacher think he is mentally retarded? Have a qualified psychologist give him an individual intelligence test. Then you will know for sure. If he is retarded try to get the school to put him in special training class. Retarded children don't succeed in regular classes. They try. They fail. They suffer. They should have classes where they can work at their own speed, without disgrace. Every school of any size should have special training classes for the retarded ones.

Check your son's health. Does he have any physical handicaps? A doctor can tell. If you find that he is normal both physically and mentally, try to arrange for remedial teaching. Ask your principal to refer you to a private tutor. Get one who is especially skilled in remedial instruction in reading and arithmetic. Have her help your boy regularly.

If the things I suggest don't work out accept the social promotion for Bill. Don't hold him back again.

READERS' FORUM

(Q)—"Do many children fail first grade? One-fourth of them do at our school." —Mrs. L.R.

(A)—Yes. many do. Their failures could be reduced greatly if we would give first grade teachers smaller classes. The country over, our first grades are far too large.

Water Finance Plan Debate Erupts Again

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The fight over pay-as-you-go or bond financing for California's multi-billion-dollar water plans has started again in the Assembly.

The bond advocates, including Gov. Edmund G. Brown, appeared to hold most of the cards. But the pay-as-you-go forces won the first deal yesterday.

WON'T HAVE MONEY

The Assembly Water Committee voted 11-6 for a bill to earmark 48 million dollars in tax money each year for water development, starting in 1960. The measure is by Assemblyman Bruce F. Allen (R-Los Gatos), who acknowledged that the state won't have that much tax money for water this year.

Allen has voted for Brown's tax bills, and successfully pushed through both houses the governor's bill to earmark the 170-million-dollar investment fund for water development.

OPPOSES BILL

Arthur Collins, Brown's assistant finance director, said he reluctantly opposed Allen's pay-as-you-go bill.

"Our final aims are identical," he told Allen. "However, this bill would tie the governor's hand in preparing the budget and require him to put in 48 million dollars for water."

Brown proposes a 960-million-dollar bond issue for water development, the bonds to be sold as needed.

He and Allen agree the rest of the money should come from project revenues and tidelands oil royalties—plus the "down payment" from the investment fund.

MARY'S LAMB VISITS CLASSROOM

Mary's little lamb didn't follow her to school, she brought it. An understanding teacher gave 11-year-old Mary Wenger permission to show her pet to other sixth grade pupils of her class at Elkhart, Ind., school. The bottle of milk was to persuade the pet to stay close to Mary's desk.

Anti-Bias Measure Reaches Assembly

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A bill banning practically all racial and religious discrimination today headed for the Assembly floor.

The Assembly Judiciary-Civil Committee unanimously approved the bill last night.

Fraternities and sororities are about the only exceptions to the measure by Assemblyman Jesse M. Unruh (D-Los Angeles). It bans discrimination because of race, religion, ancestry or natural origin in:

All business establishments.

All schools, except those organized to further religious beliefs.

All business and professional organizations.

Unruh's bill had strong endorsement from the Democratic caucus.

A bill by Assemblyman Edward E. Elliott (D-Los Angeles) was withdrawu and incorporated in Unruh's measure. Elliott's bill would have provided damages of at least $100 for discrimination on religious grounds.

Assemblyman John A. Busterud (R-San Francisco) went before the committee with a bill that would have banned discrimination at places of amusement or public accommodation.

He asked passage of his measure and suggested that Unruh's more encompassing bill be studied by an interim committee. The committee decided to accept Unruh's bill, which included all of Busterud's proposals.

Planners Rule On Requests For Variances

A series of requests for setback variances in San Rafael led to several split votes and a long verbal battle before the San Rafael Planning Commission last night.

Custom Builders' new apartment at 620 Canal street won a front setback variance of 12 feet instead of the 15 feet required by ordinances, in a 5 to 2 vote. Commissioners Pat Hetherton, Thomas Stark, Carl Brown, May Zappettini and Orlando Conti voted for the variance. Charles Hendrickson and Leonard Thomas voted "no."

William Parnow of Custom Builders admitted frankly that someone had "goofed" in installing pilings 12 feet instead of 15 feet from the front line. But since the pilings are in, it would be costly to remove them and go back to 15 feet.

OPPOSE VARIANCE

L. E. Weisenburg of San Rafael Newport Co. and his attorney, David Baty, opposed the variance and also the three stories and basement garage which was allowed by variance last December.

Weisenburg and Baty charged the planners were giving variances to Custom Builders "piece by piece" for setback, population density and extra floors. The over-all effect is a change in zoning of the area, where buildings are limited to two floors and 30 feet in height, attorney Baty declared.

Baty said he is informed the apartment area has 54,000 square feet of land. Under the zoning law requiring 1,000 square feet per unit, only 54 units should be allowed, but the apartment will have 60 units.

UNDERWATER LAND

Parnow countered that his land comprises 67,000 square feet. Weisenburg charged that Parnow was taking in land under water to come up with the 67,000 square feet. Under that theory, a developer could build to any density on a small piece of land just so he has adjoining underwater land to compute the density factor, said Weisenburg.

Weinsenburg said he would appeal to the city council.

On the very next item, William J. Maddox of 303 Paloma avenue asked for a variance to build three carports and living units up to the rear property line on Maple street instead of leaving a five-foot rear setback. On Conti's motion, the planned voted to turn down the variance request.

"Wait a minute," Stark declared. "You're going a little too fast for me. On one, we grant a variance because a man made an error. We say 'no' to this man who appears before us before he makes an error. We'd be putting a premium on making errors."

GRANT VARIANCE

The commissioners then backtracked and granted Maddox a variance to build up to within two feet of the rear line as a compromise. Hendrickson voted "no," saying property owners in the neighborhood should be notified first.

Melvin A. Geister of 14 Solar court got a rear setback variance of five feet instead of 10 in order to build an addition to his kicthen.

Richard H. Stockton of Martens boulevard, who has lots 99 and 100 on Martens Tract, won the right to build carports to his property line.

Robert and Martha Bolt of Culloden Park road must wait for two weeks on their request for a three-foot front setback instead of 15 feet. Planners want to see what the neighbors think.

SIX-FOOT LIMIT

Peter Bertoni of 69 Ridgewood road cannot have his combined fence and retaining wall higher than six feet, the planners decided in another 5-to-2 vote. Brown and Thomas dissented.

In the midst of the approvals and denials of variances, Commissioner Thomas declared that many of the problems are matters of enforcing the existing ordinances. He urged that the city council enforce the law.

City Manager Dan E. Anderson assured the commission the city would enforce the law as the violations come to light.

Legion Names Delegate To Boys' State

Brian Muth, 1-year-old junior at Tamalpais High School, has been named by Mill Valley Post 284, American Legion, as its representative to Boys' State in Sacramento, June 20-27, according to Dr. J. J. Diederich, post commander.

The Mill Valley post has sponsored a boy each year since the start of the Boys' State program, Dr. Diederich said.

Muth is a son of Mrs. S. O. Elias of 10 Renz road, Mill Valley. He is a member of the Tam Junior Statesmen and Honor T. Society. He was president of his class as a sophomore and is junior assistant scoutmaster of Troop 77. He is coordinator of the Radio Club at Tam and is in charge of the Boy Scout program on radio station KTIM. His ambition is to become a lawyer.

Student Designs Sets For Play

Sets to be used in the Tamalpais High School play, "Blind Alley", to be presented Friday and Saturday evenings, have been designed by Bruce Butte, Tam sophomore and son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Butte of Mill Valley.

He is now taking an advanced art course at Tam and has had prior scenery experience with "Mother is a Freshman" and "Paint Your Wagon," also presented at Tam.

The play will be presented in Ruby Scott auditorium. Lead parts will be played by Jerry Williams, Tom Hanley, Lisa Mibach, Karen Ledin, Marc Hanchett, Sydney Peterzon, Tim Farrell, Elizabeth Risley, David Arrow, Maurice Roan and Angelo Margolis.

County To Collect Sausalito Tax

The county board of supervisors yesterday approved the transfer of Sausalito's tax collecting and assessing duties to the county.

The agreement is to be signed by Board Chairman Walter R. Castro and County Clerk George S. Jones, and will be supplied to the city, the county's tax collector, assessor and auditor offices.

The agreement will go into effect at the beginning of the 1960-61 fiscal year.

The county now performs these services for Mill Valley, Larkspur, Belvedere and Corte Madera.

County Contracts Let For Lighting, Drainage

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday awarded contract for the installation of signal lights at Sir Francis Drake boulevard and Wolfe Grade in Kentfield, and for construction of a drainage facility in San Geronimo Valley.

The signal light contract went to L. H. Leonardi Electric Construction Co., of San Rafael on a low bid of $5,295. The drainage contract went to M. Amerel Co. of Petaluma. The bid was $3,656.

The board put over for one week awarding of contracts for remodeling the sewer treatment plant at Gallinas Village, and construction of a gutter at Front street and Elm drive in Novato.

There were only two bids on the sewer treatment plant: $21,830 by Sonoma Construction Co. and $42,870 by the Kenneth S. Scheyer Co., El Cerrito.

The two low bids on the gutter project were Ghilotti Brothers Inc., San Rafael, $3,260.85, and Ceccotti and Sons of Marin, Inc., San Rafael, $3,258.85.

Consideration of the bids was postponed to allow Marvin W. Brigham, director of public works, to review them.

The board of supervisors yesterday also:

1. Referred to Brigham a request from the Stinson Beach Progressive Club for traffic lights at the entrance to Stinson Beach State Park and a no-parking ruling for narrow streets during busy tourist weekends.

2. Postponed until 3 p.m. April 21 consideration of the request of F. E. Buck for a property line and carport adjustment at his proposed home on Straits View drive, Tiburon, after hearing numerous protests from property owners in the area. South Marin Supervisor Vera Schultz indicated she would like to see the property.

3. Postponed until 2:30 p.m. April 21 a request from the county planning commission for a resolution of intention to rezone the property of Samuel Neider at Strawberry Point for controlled commercial. After numerous protests from property owners from vicinity of Ricardo drive, Mrs. Schultz said she would read the April, 1955, minutes of the Strawberry Property Owners Assn. relative to Neider's alleged statements about earlier plans in the area. The association and more than a score of individuals oppose the proposed rezoning.

4. Approved Thomas P. Boyd of San Rafael, to represent the Marin County Bar Assn., and Edward P. Morphy, and Frank Perachiotti, Novato, to represent the Marin County Real Estate Board on the proposed Bay Area Rapid Transit Liaison Committee.

5. Approved the following pay to doctors who are serving with County Physician Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy, all of whom are doing double duty: Dr. Elmer Weden, $500 for one more month; and Dr. Theodore Hiatt, Dr. John Lee, and Dr. D. G. Thomson, all an increase from $250 to $375 a month.

6. Voted to consider the Marin Music Chest's annual request for $1,000 during preliminary work on the new county budget.

7. Allocated $500 to the county medical director as emergency funds for ambulance services. County Administrator Donald A. Jensen said he hoped soon to have a revised ambulance use plan before the board.

8. Referred to County Counsel Leland H. Jordan a request from the Marin County Employees Retirement Assn. that superior court reporters be included in the retirement system.

9. Accepted a deed from Schultz Investment Co. of Greenbrae for land at the approach to the new Bon Air Bridge. The county is paying $2 for the land, which is being deeded as long as the land is used for road purposes.

Bill Would Ban Glasses Cutting Vision

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A California legislator says blinders may be fine for horses, but not for people — especially when driving a car.

Assemblyman S. C. Masterson (D-El Sobrante) today proposed broadening a bill to outlaw drivers wearing glasses that restrict side vision.

His amendments to a bill by Sen. James A. Cobey (D-Merced) would make it illegal to manufacture, sell or use glasses which would interfere with a driver's lateral vision, except on a doctor's prescription.

The Assembly passed Cobey's bill a week ago, but Masterson served notice he would seek to have the house reconsider its action. It already had been passed by the Senate.

"My amendments will make a good bill out of a silly one," Masterson said. "As the bill stands, applying only to driving, its utterly unenforceable."

Cobey's bill specifies glasses which have sidebars more than one-half inch thick at the temples and which are below the center of the lenses.

If the Assembly approved reconsidering the bill and adopts Masterson's amendments, the measure would go back to the Senate for approval of the amendments.

Captives Return

TOKYO (AP) — Fifty-one Japanese fishermen returned from five months' detention in Communist China yesterday in fishing boats plastered with pro-Commuuist signs and slogans.

The fishermen were cool to their welcoming families, and all praised the Peiping government.

Signs on their four boats said:

"Foster friendship between Japan and Communist China! Abrogate the Japan-United States security treaty! Down with the Kishi cabinet! Protect Peace!"

Chinese patrol boats captured the men off the Shantung Peninsula last November.

Marin Firm Bids Low On Army Jobs

Associated Dredging Co. of Sausalito stands to receive contracts for two Army Corps of Engineers dredging projects this week.

The Sausalito firm was low bidder on projects for Petaluma Creek and Richmond Harbor at opening of bids yesterday, Col. John S. Harnett, San Francisco District Army engineer, announced today.

The company bid $154,328.50 for the Petaluma Creek project, which includes removal of 245,000 cubic yards of material along two and one-half miles of the creek from Haystack Lodge to Petaluma.

It bid $24,272 for Richmond Harbor work east of Pt. San Pablo, which includes maintenance of a channel 2,000 feet long, with about 50,400 cubic yards of material to be removed.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. each day the code letters are different.

In the Matter of the Adoption of CANDACE ELLYN BURT, a Minor; CATHY GAY BURT, a Minor; JOHN BOYDEN BURT II, a Minor.

To JOHN B. BURT, father of the above-named minors:

YOU ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED that there has been filed in this Court the verified petition of DANIEL JOSEPH O'BRIEN, III, for the adoption of the above named minors by the said DANIEL JOSEPH O'BRIEN, III, and that it is alleged in said petition that ELINOR MARIE SEEMANN BURT O'BRIEN, the mother of the above-named minors, was heretofore granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from you, and was awarded the custody of all of said minors. Further, a Final Decree of Divorce was granted to said ELINOR MARIE SEEMANN BURT awarding custody of said minors to said ELINOR MARIE SEEMANN BURT; that you, for a period of more than one year, have wilfully failed to pay for the care, support and maintenance of said children, when able so to do;

Vic Damone, Ex-Wife In Dispute Over Son

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "All I want is to see my son—I don't want to be a bad guy," said Vic Damone.

From Denmark came the angry voice of the singer's divorced wife, Pier Angeli: "Nobody can ever take my son from me."

This long-distance row was stirred up when the petite Italian actress flew from Hollywood to Copenhagen yesterday with their 3-year-old son, Perry.

The trip was in violation of a court order—obtained by Damone—restraining Miss Angeli from taking the child out of California. But she told a newsman in Copenhagen her ex-husband actually had given her oral permission to take Perry with her.

Damone had a different version of the dispute. He blamed his former mother-in-law, Mrs. Enrica Pierangeli, for much of the trouble. The singer said the actress' mother exerts a strong influence over her daughter.

Mrs. Pierangeli declined comment.

The couple was married in November, 1954, and divorced last December. Miss Angeli got custody of the child and Damone was given visiting privileges. In asking for a court order, Damone said he would be deprived of these privileges if his son were taken abroad. A hearing had been set for Friday.

SPURNS COURT ORDER — Actress Pier Angeli holds her son, Perry, 3, at Copenhagen Airport today after flight from Hollywood. She left California despite a court order obtained by her estranged husband, Vic Damone, forbidding her to take the child out of the state. (AP Wirephoto)

Discover Farm-Fresh Produce at Lucky!

Your Lucky Store enjoys the enviable reputation for offering the finest, the freshest fruits and vegetables in any supermarket! In fact, the only way to select produce any fresher is to grow it yourself.

Lucky's fruits and vegetables are picked in the cool, early morning hours so the heat won't rob them of their heathful vitamins and superb flavor. Then they're rushed from the fields and orchards to your Lucky Store by fast trucks. Once again, upon arrival, all fruits and vegetables are carefully examined, checked, trimmed and washed, ready for your inspection and selection.

The most important thing to remember is that Lucky produce is as fresh-as-morning-dew, and rushed to your Lucky Store in hours after it has been picked!

Lucky maintains field buyers in every important agriculture center in California to select and purchase the top-of-the-crop. This is added assurance that only the finest, freshest fruits and vegetables are offered to Lucky customers.

Look over the mouth-watering, dazzling display of produce at your new Lucky Store and you'll agree that such variety and freshness has never before been offered to Marin homemakers! Corte Madera Shopping Center Offers Bargain Extravaganza This Week

For the rest of this week, Marin County shoppers will have an unparalleled opportunity to see what a major shopping center in the heart of their own community has to offer in goods and services.

Starting today and running through Saturday, a Promotion Days sales event is being offered by the merchants of the multi-million-dollar Corte Madera Center, just west of Highway 101.

Members of the center council met last night to solidify plans for sales and promotional campaigns to be presented during the balance of 1959.

For convenience of late shoppers, all stores in the Corte Madera Center will be open until 9 p.m. today and Friday.

Pleased with the public's response to Marin's first mammoth shopping "community," center merchants are not content to stand still. Always on the lookout for ways to improve and attract new customers, they strive constantly to satisfy the consumer needs of Marin's rapidly expanding population.

"We believe the Corte Madera Center is making excellent progress," said Larry D. Gaisford, manager of the center's J. C. Penney Co. store.

"We have had a fine reception," added Gaisford, chairman of the current merchandising event. "And, of course, we think we have the finest customers in the world in this area."

The center council — a sort of "chamber of commerce" for the new regional shopping center — was organized last fall and incorporated early this year. Its president is Raymond J. Zierolf of Littleman Markets.

Other officers are Edward Cechettini of Luana's Fashions, vice president; Louis Malvino of Louis-George Men's Wear, secretary, and Beverley A. Sill of First National Bank, treasurer.

Directors of the council are Larry D. Gaisford of J. C. Penney Co., Harry Kramar of Kramar's Shoes, Charles West of W. T. Grant Co., center developer Frank Rusalem and Zierolf, Malvino and Sill.

Harmony Music Center Is Newest Business To Open At Center

Harmony Music Center, a brand new firm, is among the 28 stores and services participating in the Corte Madera Center's Promotion Days merchandising event, which started today and ends Saturday.

The radio, television and record store opened at the center last Friday under the proprietorship of Irving Rosenberg.

His selection of Marin's largest shopping center ended a five-month search by Rosenberg for a new Bay Area location. He established Harmony Radio (later Harmony Radio and Television) 22 years ago in San Francisco.

The Corte Madera location, Rosenberg said, has a greater business potential than San Mateo, Burlingame, Redwood City and many other Bay Area locations.

Rosenberg handles the radio and television end of Harmony Music Center, and his wife, Clara, is in charge of purchases and sales of records.

During World War II, Rosenberg installed radar on ships.

Student Dancers To Strut Stuff

The Toe Tappers, square and folk dance group from Neil Cummins School in Corte Madera, will strut April 24 in front of the J. C. Penney Co. store at Corte Madera Center.

Larry D. Gaisford, manager, said the students will start their dances at 7:30 p. m. under the leadership of Mrs. Vera Preston, instructor.

The students will wear their colorful costumes for the demonstration.

HEADS PROMOTION—Larry G Gaisford, chairman for the Promotion Days sale tonight through Saturday at Corte Madera Center. Gaisford, in 1902 dress, is manager of J. C. Penney Co., which is celebrating its 57th anniversary along with the sale. (Independent-Journal photo).

Here's Handy List Of Center's 28 Stores, Services

For the convenience of Marin shoppers who will visit the Corte Madera Center today through Saturday, here is a list of the center's 28 stores and services:

W. T. Grant Co., Thrifty Drug Store, Anita Shop, Kramar's Shoes, Jay Vee Store, Kirby Shoe Store, Martin and Harris Appliances, Lady Baltimore Bakery, F. W. Woolworth Co., Toy World, Gallenkamp's Shoes, J. C. Penney Co. and Louis George Men's Apparel.

Luana's, The Swiss Watchmaker (Eric Mathias), Kerns and Walker Cleaners, Household Finance Corp., First National Bank, Littleman Market, Zim's Restaurant, Junior Junction Infants and Children's Wear, Marina Barbershop and Dr. Shuso Kumata, optometrist.

Peerless Laundry, Edgewater Inn, Harmony Music Center, Jerry's Chevron Service Station and Jack's Union Service Station.

Rusalem Developed Center From Barren Swamp Area

Rusalem first bought the acreage for the shopping center and Madera Gardens subdivision in 1945 when the site consisted mainly of swamp and seagulls.

The first developments were the subdivision, service stations and the Edgewater Inn motel.

The first major unit of the shopping center was opened in ceremonies July last year. Since that time plans have been announced for new 14 million-dollar Montgomery Ward and First National Bank buildings, plus a string of other small shops to be leased

He and his wife, Edna, have resided most of the time since the World War II in Marin. They have a son, Lester, in San Francisco and a daughter, Evelyn, who resides in Daly City.

Center's Merchants To Give Two Television Sets Away

The merchants of Corte Madera Center, Marin County's one-stop shopping center, at Highway 101 and Corte Madera wye, are throwing two 17-inch models up for grabs in a promotion that is to climax with public awards on Saturday, April 25, at 4:30 p. m. in the huge parking lot at the center.

According to Ray Zierolf, president of the sponsoring Corte Madera Center Merchants Council, tickets for the portable televisions may be obtained, without cost or obligation, from any of the 28 shops and services in the Center. Employees of the businesses of the center and their families cannot participate in the awards, he said.

The first flag of the United States is believed to be one with 13 blue and silver stripes which was carried by the Philadelphia Troop of Light Horse in 1775.
